Labor Union Chief, Probe Target, Quits

Head Of Operating Engineers Gives Illness As Reason

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 6 (AP)—William P. Maloney, aged and ill labor baron faced with corruption charges, quit today as president of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Maloney stepped out reluctantly with an accompanying statement from his physician that he must retire or face early death from recurring heart and kidney ailments.

The union boss, 77, was accused in recent Senate Rackets Committee hearings of being a virtual dictator over his 250,000-member union who got his job originally after some of his opposition was "murdered, gangland style, in the streets of Chicago."

Fund Misuse Charged

There was testimony that Maloney looted union funds through lush expense accounts and maintained three homes, expensive cars and a luxury yacht at union expense.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said Maloney further benefited from union funds taken from two union locals in Chicago. Maloney was trustee over the locals nearly 30 years. McClellan said Maloney had refused to reveal contents of 10 or 11 safety deposit boxes and suggested revenue agents should examine them.

Maloney has been in a hospital here but recently was moved to his island home off Miami Beach. He is expected to be succeeded as head of the Operating Engineers by Joseph J. Delaney, the union's secretary-treasurer. It was Delaney who released the text of Maloney's resignation and his doctor's statement to reporters covering AFL-CIO winter meetings here.

Delaney Friend Of Meany

Delaney, 61, has been a close personal friend of AFL-CIO President George Meany since both were minor union officials in New York City. Delaney announced he will be a candidate to succeed Maloney at a special meeting of the Operating Engineers' executive board here next week.

Delaney has been prominent in the Operating Engineers since he succeeded Joey Fay of Newark as the union's Eastern District boss when Fay was sent to prison on extortion charges in 1946.

Ike, Stassen Confer Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower will confer tomorrow with Harold E. Stassen, his disarmament adviser. Out of the conference may come a Stassen decision on whether to run for governor of Pennsylvania.

Stassen lately has been at odds regarding disarmament policy and how to deal with the Russians.

In 1956 Stassen tried to dump Vice President Nixon from the No. 2 spot on the Republican ticket.

At his news conference yesterday, Eisenhower was asked whether he considered Stassen's usefulness as disarmament adviser is now at an end.

"If so," a reporter inquired further, "would you be pleased to see the former governor of Minnesota—Stassen—as the next governor of Pennsylvania?"

Eisenhower replied: "Actually Mr. Stassen and I have had a couple of conferences, and I think I have one scheduled for this week to see exactly what we believe should be done."

"Now, he, as I understand, expressed some interest in being a governor, and I want to say very frankly that there are many traits of his that I believe to be admirably fitting for such an office. He is a great administrator and he is an indefatigable worker."

Bridges Leads GOP In Singing Dulles' Praise

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Republicans, led by Sen. Bridges of New Hampshire, praised Secretary of State Dulles today as the "chief protagonist" of the free world against Russian communism.

Bridges, not always a supporter of administration foreign policy, made a speech in the Senate honoring Dulles for resisting the "rising clamor for a summit meeting."

The senator said Dulles has wisely refused "to be caught in any Russian bear trap."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate Republican leader, joined Bridges in saying that Russia's Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin have been trying to discredit Dulles, because he is "their most effective adversary."

The championship of Dulles came in the wake of frequent criticism by some Democrats that Dulles is inflexible in his approach to negotiations with Russia.

Bridges declared: "The Russians refuse to permit a meeting of foreign ministers because they dislike dealing with Mr. Dulles. I am unwilling to surrender the selection of our secretary of state to Bulganin and Khrushchev."

Before the praise ended, more than a dozen senators had joined with Bridges in defense and praise of Dulles.

Sen. Martin (R-Pa.) said he had differed from Dulles many a time, but always has regarded him as "a dedicated man" and always has felt the country was fortunate to have him.

Sen. Purtell (R-Conn.) said that if Russia could cause the American people to lose faith in their leaders, including Dulles, it would be "an easy victory" for the Reds. He said Sen. Bridges' speech had alerted the people to that possibility.

Stevenson To Visit Russia In Summer

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, Democratic nominee for president in 1952 and 1956, will visit the Soviet Union this summer to "educate himself" on modern conditions there, an associate said today.

William Blair, Stevenson's Chicago law partner, said the Democratic leader will go to England and Belgium on law business in late spring.

He added that Stevenson plans to follow this up with a trip to Scandinavia and then go into the Soviet Union for two or three weeks.

Former Assistant District Attorney Kills Young Bride's Former Suitor

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 6 (AP)—A former assistant district attorney killed his young bride's former suitor when he found them in a motel room today.

Authorities charged the attorney, Walter C. Wiebusch, 41, with murder and released him without bond.

British Soccer Stars Die In Crash

21 On Champs' Airliner Killed In Fiery Plunge

MUNICH, Germany, Feb. 6 (AP)—A British airliner carrying Britain's champion football team home from Yugoslavia crashed and burned on its third try to take off in a snowstorm today and plunged the European sports world into mourning.

Twenty-one persons were reported killed. Among them were seven football men, eight British sports writers and a member of the plane's crew.

The measure of tragedy was much as though an American World Series baseball champion team had suffered a similar loss. Queen Elizabeth II was among the mourners.

The Munich police department announced the official death toll of 21 and said 23 others survived but some were undergoing desperate emergency operations to keep them alive.

Two Germans Feared Killed
Police feared two Germans were also killed when the plunging plane struck a house and a gasoline shed.

Seat straps trapped some passengers in the flaming wreckage.

The twin-engine Elizabetan of the British European Airways had halted here for refueling en route to London from Belgrade where the Manchester United soccer team played Yugoslavia's Red Star team to a 3-3 tie yesterday and advanced to the semi-finals of the European Cup matches.

Eleven sports writers were with the team. Peter Howard and E. A. Ellyard of the Manchester Daily Mail were among the survivors.

But Frank Swift of the London News of the World, a former goal keeper star who played 19 times for England before World War II and then became a sports writer, died on the operating table in a hospital.

Team Worth $840,000
Matt Busby, the team manager who is considered one of the great soccer masterminds of the world, survived.

Three players, including Manchester's greater center forward Tommy Taylor, were among those presumed dead. BEA named them as not accounted for in a list late tonight. It put the identified dead at 15 and those unaccounted for at 6.

The team probably was the most valuable collection of soccer players in the world, being worth about $840,000 in fees if transferred to another club.

Soviet Veterans Of Elbe Link-up Invited To U.S.

CHICAGO, Feb. 6 (AP)—Soviet soldiers who met Americans at the Elbe River in Germany, culminating the World War II two-front drive against the Nazis, were invited today to a reunion in Washington.

Joseph Polowsky, Chicago bus driver who is secretary of the American Veterans of the Elbe River Link-up, said he has sent a cordial invitation to the Soviet veterans to visit the reunion April 25, the 13th anniversary of the Elbe meeting.

Polowsky's group attended a reunion in Moscow on the 10th anniversary. Soviet veterans turned down invitations to observances in the United States in 1956 and last year because of objections to a fingerprinting requirement, which was dropped last fall.

House Group Asks FCC Hold Off On Pay TV

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—A House committee today asked the Federal Communications Commission to hold off on its plans for a trial of pay television until Congress can act on the issue.

Rep. Harris (D-Ark) told reporters that the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, of which he is chairman, had passed a resolution to that effect in closed session today.

Such a resolution is not binding—it expresses the committee desire only.

Rep. Leo W. O'Brien (D-NY) a committee member, told reporters that if the FCC should go ahead with a pay TV trial, he assumed members with bills to prohibit pay TV could press for quick committee action.

The committee has been flooded with protests against pay TV. An aide said 50,000 letters had come in during the past two weeks and estimated that about 999 out of 1,000 were against pay TV. Committee sources said some television stations apparently had asked their watchers to write.

Most pay systems so far developed involved scramble broadcasts made viewable by a decoding device attached to the receiver and activated by deposit of a coin for through a telephone connection.

The FCC announced last October that it would consider applications for pay TV on a three-year trial basis but would take no action prior to March 1.

According to Harris, the resolution said it was the feeling of the committee that the public interest would not be served by the test because "such operations might lead at least to a partial blackout of the present system in particular communities if not throughout the United States."

Also, the committee was not satisfied that the FCC had authority to license pay TV operations, the resolution said.

Japanese Ship Breaks Free From Ice Pack

TOKYO, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Japanese antarctic expedition ship Soya radioed she broke into the open sea today from an ice pack that trapped her for 46 days 1,500 miles from the South Pole, the Maritime Safety Board said.

The U.S. icebreaker Burton Island, steaming to the Soya's rescue, was about 600 miles away from the icepack and had been expected to reach the Soya Saturday.

Airliners Grounded After Bomb Warning

BALTIMORE, Feb. 6 (AP)—Six Eastern Airlines flights out of Newark, N. J. were grounded tonight, one of them at Friendship International Airport here, after an anonymous telephone call warning of a bomb.

Eastern officials and airport police here said they knew only that the warning had been received in Newark from a woman caller who said a bomb had been placed on an Eastern plane.

Later, Mrs. Gregg said that her daughter and Minnie Jean were the principals.

Blossom said that no one was injured and that no one had been suspended at the time.

Police found Black's body on the floor, fully clothed except for shoes. Five bullets had struck the 200-pound former Marine.

Vanguard Flop Laid To Defective Wiring

Major Part Of Wreckage Is Recovered

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla., Feb. 6 (AP)—The Air Force recovered a major part of the wreckage of the Vanguard test vehicle today and the Navy said defective wiring probably caused the huge rocket to go astray.

Much of the first stage of the three-stage rocket was hauled out of the ocean a few miles off the launching area yesterday. More parts, including a portion of the second stage, were recovered today.

The rocket, bearing a small satellite in its nose, broke apart four miles above its launching site early Wednesday only a minute after leaving the ground.

The Office of Naval Research and the Naval Research Laboratory said in a joint statement that as far as could be determined there was "no device that malfunctioned."

They said there apparently was a defect in the wiring connecting the automatic pilot and the hydraulic "servo" system of the first stage.

The servo is a kind of robot which carries out electronic impulses transmitted from the automatic pilot.

The Navy said that when the rocket began to deviate from its course, the correcting signal from the auto pilot was unable to reach the servo system which would have issued an electronic command in the first stage correcting the position of the rocket engine.

Without this correction, "the rocket was forced hard to the right and the strain caused it to break," the Navy said.

It was learned independently that the behavior of the ill-fated rocket and of its main-stage engine under the terrible stresses that tore at them gave the Navy new assurance that its space research vehicle basically is sound and capable of doing its job.

This assurance gave promise, too, that programs to launch the two additional Vanguard test vehicles that are on hand at the test center here will be expedited.

Teen-Age Theft Ring Broken Up At Danville, Va.

DANVILLE, Va., Feb. 6 (AP)—Police said today they have broken up a teen-age theft ring which required its members to steal at least one item a week from a store.

Police declined to identify any of those apprehended but said they ranged generally in age from 14 to 17 and came from middle-to-upper-class homes. All are white.

The name of the club was TST—The Stealing Thieves. The motto was, "If you don't steal, you're chicken; and if you're chicken, you don't belong."

Airline Passenger Fares Go Up Monday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—A four per cent increase in airline passenger fares, plus a $1 service charge on each ticket, will take effect at midnight Sunday on 25 major airlines, the Civil Aeronautics Board said today.

The interim fare schedules were filed with CAB yesterday by the airlines, who have applied for much larger permanent increases.

Demos Request Hike In Jobless Pay, Score Ike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Several Democratic senators criticized President Eisenhower today for what one of them called the serious economic trouble the country is facing.

That was the phrase used by Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) in co-sponsoring a bill by Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) to increase unemployment compensation payments and widen the range of coverage.

Kennedy said present benefits cover only a fraction of the current loss in wages.

Joining in the move, Sen. Clark (D-Pa.) accused the President of not taking the lead when the states failed to act.

"Instead," Clark said, "he has stood silently by and let the situation continue to drift while unemployment hardships grow."

It was disclosed that the administration is asking Congress for emergency funds to help handle increases in unemployment insurance benefit payments.

Robert C. Goodwin, director of the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security, told the House Appropriations Committee that insured unemployment in the week ended Jan. 4 was 2,779,000, an increase of almost 400,000 over the previous weekly high in January 1950.

Goodwin agreed with committee estimates that more than a million additional unemployed persons were not drawing benefits, mainly because they were not eligible or had already used up their benefits.

Goodwin appeared at a closed-door session and his testimony has just been made public.

He asked for an extra $76,400,000 for the year ending June 30, broken down into 33 million for grants to the states for administration of their unemployment compensation and employment service programs; 25 million for veterans unemployment payments; and about 18½ million for benefits to jobless federal employees.

16th Child 'On House'

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Feb. 6 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bails of Stanwood had their 16th child "on the house" yesterday.

Mrs. Bails gave birth to the child, a girl, at Mercy Hospital here. The couple now has eight boys and eight girls, all born at Mercy and all living.

The hospital helped the parents celebrate by saying they would have no hospital bills to pay.

Rep. Burdick, 78, Plans To Wed Blonde Divorcee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Rep. Usher L. Burdick, 78, said today he intends to wed Miss Jean Rodgers, blonde divorcee in her thirties, "if she's foolish enough to have me."

The colorful North Dakota Republican, has been married twice, said he had not seen Miss Rodgers since he was taken to Bethesda Naval Hospital yesterday in a Capitol police squad car after becoming ill.

"I did talk to her, though, on the phone," Burdick chuckled, "and she thought things were moving pretty fast. But she said she is ready to go if I am."

Policy Group Will Prepare Guide Plan

Emergency Defense Appropriation Bill Sent To President

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Senate created a special committee today to help plan for American exploration and conquest of outer space.

Thirteen senior senators will be appointed to the policy group. The chairman may be Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas, who proposed the committee.

"This movement into space will dominate the affairs of mankind just as the exploration of the Western Hemisphere dominated the affairs of mankind in the 16th and 17th centuries," Johnson said.

There were several other major developments in the nation's effort to pull abreast of the Soviet Union in the missile-satellite race and adjust U.S. defenses to the space age.

Defense Bill Sent To Ike

The House passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill appropriating $1,410,000,000 for more missiles and atomic submarines, and improved air defenses. The money is for the present fiscal year, which ends June 30.

The House and Senate approved compromise legislation affirming the Defense Department's authority to proceed with its ballistic missile program and putting Secretary of Defense McElroy in charge of outer space projects for the next year. The language is contained in a defense authorization bill which now goes to the White House.

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission declared it was imperative to undertake a national project for nuclear propulsion of peaceful outer space vehicles. He discussed the idea before a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee.

Air Force Wants In Act

It was learned the Air Force has offered to try to put a 1,000-pound satellite into orbit by June, using its Thor, an intermediate-range ballistic missile. So far the Air Force has not been authorized to enter the satellite program.

The Navy notified Congress it is cutting every corner it can to get its Polaris combat team ready in two years and possibly sooner. The Polaris is a 1,500-mile missile designed to be fired from atomic submarines either above or below the water.

The Senate vote for a special space committee was 78-1 with Sen. Ellender (D-La.) the lone dissenter.

Ellender's opposition was not explained.

A $150,000 operating fund was approved for the space committee and it was charged with producing by June 1 or shortly thereafter a comprehensive plan to guide U.S. civilian and military attempts to navigate space and reach heavenly bodies.

Goated Bandit Robs N.Y. Bank

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 (AP)—A goateed gunman used a woman and two children as his shield today in the $14,614 stickup of a Bronx bank and the bank manager to canvass the tellers' cages and stuff his loot into shopping bags.

"I thought this only happened in the movies," said the woman who was pressed into servitude as a messenger. "The man said, 'Hey, miss, take this bag and get all the money.' I saw his gun and I listened to him."

Police would not disclose the woman's identity.

The stickup man, a Negro, herded the other woman and the two children out of the bank with him. Police at first believed he carried them off as hostages. Later, however, they decided he turned them loose outside the bank before he fled.

When he entered the bank the gunman seized one of the children, a lame girl, and ordered employees and customers to obey his orders. "I'll shoot the kid if you don't," he warned.

The bank was a Manufacturers Trust Co. branch at Third Ave. and 155th St. It was the scene of a $12,680 holdup in 1952. Two of the earlier bandits were shot to death by police and a third was sent to prison.

Missile Has New Guidance System

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., Feb. 6 (AP)—The Air Force today announced a successful off-range flight of a TM76 tactical missile, using its new guidance system.

The missile was launched here and impacted in the selected target area 630 miles away at Wendover Air Force Base, Utah.

Two F100 Super Sabre jet fighters escorted the missile during the test flight to act as observation planes.

A guidance system is completely self-contained within the missile, making it impossible for an enemy to affect the course of flight, the Air Force spokesman said. The TM76, original version of the missile, was controlled in flight electronically by ground personnel.

Morse Accused Of Petty Politics

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Sen. Allott (R-Colo.) fired a charge of disgraceful conduct at Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) today in an argument over aid to education.

The argument took place in the Senate Education Committee where Secretary of Welfare Folsom presented President Eisenhower's four-year, $1,200,000 school program.

Morse called the program completely inadequate, and said he was shocked that the administration doesn't know what the needs are.

He said one scientist had told him that the United States has lost a whole generation of students because of lack of school facilities. "Why doesn't the President ask Congress to measure up to this situation?" he asked.

Allott thereupon accused Morse of using the committee hearings for petty partisan politics. He said he considered it a disgrace to use this committee as a forum for such a purpose.

"I'm very shocked and sorry to hear the speech of the senator from Oregon," Allott said.

The administration bill provides, among other things, for 10,000 scholarships a year for exceptionally able high school graduates and 605 million dollars in federal funds to strengthen the teaching of science and mathematics in public schools.

Hammarskjold Gets Invitation To Visit Kremlin

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Feb. 6 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold suggested today a bit-by-bit approach as one means of trying to break the East-West disarmament deadlock.

Hammarskjold, who has been engaged in a series of huddles on disarmament here and abroad, disclosed also that he has been invited to the Kremlin for private talks on world problems.

He said he would try definitely to stop in Moscow on his travels. These include a visit in Malaya early next month.

He made the statements in response to questions at a news conference.

Old Treasure Ship Spotted By Frogmen

TOULON, France, Feb. 6 (AP)—French frogmen today reported spotting the wreckage of what they believe was a treasure ship that sank 161 years ago.

They said they identified the ship as the De Grasse. She transported a cargo of gifts from the Khedive of Egypt to Empress Eugenie of France.

The De Grasse sank after a collision off the French coast in 1837. The hulk located here lies in 150 feet of water just off Toulon.

An expedition will be organized in the spring to try to recover the treasures which includes 2,000 gold coins.

Soviet Jetliner Arrives In U.S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The new Soviet ambassador, Mikhail A. Menshikov, promised on his arrival today to work to "establish and strengthen the atmosphere of understanding and trust between our countries."

The new envoy landed at Friendship Airport in nearby Maryland after a flight from Moscow in one of Russia's new jet airliners, the TU104A.

He was welcomed by Wiley Buchanan, State Department chief of protocol, on behalf of President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

He then went before a battery of microphones and a crowd of newsmen and made a statement in English.

"I'm glad that I came again to the United States," Menshikov said. "I have been sent to your country by my government as an ambassador of peace, friendship and cooperation."

BALTIMORE, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Russian TU104A jet airliner which brought Mikhail A. Menshikov, new Soviet ambassador, to the United States today blew a tire on landing, but it didn't even phase the big plane.

Each of the main landing gear of the jet has four wheels and it was the tire on one of these which blew out when the plane touched down at Friendship International Airport.

Cigaret Tax Poses Enforcement Task

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 6 (AP)—A major law enforcement problem confronted the comptroller's office today in the wake of the Legislature's enactment of a new state tax on cigarettes.

The bill, which provides a salary increase for school teachers and levies a 3-cents-per-pack cigarette tax to finance it, contains the following provision:

"No consumer or user shall bring into this state more than two packs of cigarettes which do not bear (state tax) stamps... except that non-residents may have in their possession quantities not exceeding one carton of cigarettes."

Bootleggers of such cigarettes are subject to fines of $25 per carton and could be imprisoned for up to one year.

In addition, any person found selling or possessing unstamped cigarettes can be fined up to $1,000 and imprisoned for up to one year.

year. The same penalty is provided for anyone who counterfeits a stamp or using one more than once.

Immediate speculation at the Legislature was that the comptroller might have to set up a special agency, such as the alcoholic beverages tax enforcement unit, to enforce the law.

A spokesman for the tobacco industry predicted it would be "almost impossible" to enforce.

Comptroller J. Millard Taves was not commenting. He said he will discuss all aspects of the tax bill with the attorney general before making any statement.

Taves said he was asking that a special assistant attorney general be assigned to the State Sales Tax Division to work out the machinery for putting the act into effect.

Ancient Waldensian Church Holds Unique Place In Annals Of Protestantism

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

A small but hardy church today holds a unique place in the annals of Protestantism. Among such denominations, it's the oldest.

"We're sometimes called the 'Mother of the Reformation,'" said the Rev. Archille Deodato, leader of the ancient Christian group which emerged far back in the Middle Ages.

Its name, the Waldensian Church, its birthplace was in the mountain-ringed valleys of northern Italy and southeastern France.

The Rev. Mr. Deodato, the church's moderator for seven years, is in this country for a two-month speaking tour.

"We have very close ties to many American denominations," he said.

The Waldensians have played an unusual role in the age-old drama of Christianity.

Contrary to the popular view that Protestantism arose abruptly in the 1500s when Martin Luther broke with Roman Catholicism, there were numerous forerunners throughout church history, the Rev. Mr. Deodato noted.

The Waldensians, he said, were simply part of a "long stream of Christian thought reacting against the worldly attitude of the official church" after it was established by the Roman Empire in the fourth century.

But among these movements, the oldest survivor on a continuous, organized basis is the little band from Italy's fertile, wooded northern valleys.

Although tracing their roots to the previous century, it was in 1170 that Peter Waldo, a rich textile merchant, gave the Waldensians their founding methods and momentum.

First Manned Moon Would Be All-Seeing Eye

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 6 (AP)—An all-seeing eye immune to interruption from earth is the prize for the first conqueror of space, an Army missile expert said here last night.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris said the owner of a manned satellite would have the power to exercise continuing reconnaissance over the earth, launch and guide weapons of thermonuclear or any other type to an accurate strike on any target.

The commanding general of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency, Huntsville, Ala., told a meeting at the Franklin Institute that "all the continents, islands and seas would be at the mercy of an all-seeing eye immune to interruption from any earthbound quarter."

Gen. Medaris said that "barring unexpected success in the field of international relations, the universe could become the battlefield of the future. The only positive means of preventing such a disastrous future is for this nation to achieve the earlier manned control of space in the interest of those high principles of human welfare which have always directed our progress."

The general called for a national program with mastery of space as its ultimate goal. He said the blunt truth was that "we are in a race against time with an adversary of no mean capabilities, who has committed to his effort a far greater percentage of his total resources than we have so far mustered."

He said that if we fail to meet this challenge, "we can progress preempted by the acknowledged agents of anti-Christ, with consequences too awful to contemplate."

At a news conference, Gen. Medaris commented on a variety of things, including inter-service rivalries, the nation's educational system, and a possible manned round trip to the moon.

"I am sick and tired of service rivalry being pictured to the public wrongly. It doesn't mean what the public has been led to believe. If we didn't have competition among the services we would have second-grade institutions, strictly mediocrity in our armed services. Rivalry improves morale and spirit and promotes team work," he said.

As for education, Gen. Medaris said it was his personal opinion that young Americans should attack the hard things first and the easy ones last. He suggested a revamping of our educational system based on this premise.

He predicted a manned space vehicle would make a round trip to the moon within 15 years. A moon-circling rocket will come much sooner since it is easier to send a rocket around the moon and back again than to hit the moon, he said.

Echoes Of Moscow

VIENNA, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Red press of Hungary and other Soviet East European satellites is reprinting the Moscow Literary Gazette's attack on Howard Fast, American author who quit communism.

This happened after he had a conversation with a priest about Jesus and the rich young ruler who declined to give up his wealth to follow the master. Deeply affected, Waldo gave all his fortune to the poor, and went forth as a barefooted, rough-clad preacher.

To the Roman Catholic Church,

it was a heretical movement. Repeated attempts were made to suppress it, by government and church. Over the years, thousands were slain, or imprisoned.

The persecutions scattered many Waldensians across the Continent, and at one time, a huge massacre sent all their small remnants into Switzerland for haven.

But they soon came back to their beloved valleys.

Thus, in the travail of martyrdoms, the little church kept alive.

The Rev. Mr. Deodato said its main doctrinal emphasis today still is much as it was originally, stressing an "open Bible" with the right of everyone to read and interpret it, without clerical authority over belief.

The church also recognizes only two sacraments — baptism and communion, and holds that salvation is by faith alone, and not merited by works.

These tenets were echoed later in the Protestant Reformation. At that time, Waldensians were in contact with the reformers.

"We feel our work prefaced the spread of the Reformation," the Rev. Mr. Deodato said. "You can find tracks of the Waldensians in all countries long before the Reformation."

He estimated there now are 50,000 Waldensians in Italy, about 10,000 in southern France that merged with Presbyterians, but a New York congregation still remains part of the Italian church synod, with headquarters in Rome and northern Torre Pellice.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 6 (AP)—Last Hopkins biologist, got his answer fall a prominent scientist, who also today in a report to the commis- erating expenses per pupil would schools in the Baltimore area is a member of the Baltimore sioners by Dr. John H. Operating costs in- clude salaries, books, paper, pen- cils, utilities, maintenance—every- thing but construction and pension costs.

If the changes could be made today, they would cost 224 1/2 mil- lion dollars—including 52 1/2 million for operations and 172 for new classrooms—over and above pres- ent expenditures for salaries, op- erations and construction.

By 1962, based on estimated en- rollment growths, the cost would swell to 265 million—including 61 million for operation and 204 for facilities—again over and above present costs.

Under such conditions, the op- ysis of tuition rates for private erating expenses per pupil would schools in the Baltimore area is a member of the Baltimore sioners by Dr. John H. Fischer, be $615, more than twice the $300 shows that parents are paying now expended. Operating costs in- clude salaries, books, paper, pen- cils, utilities, maintenance—every- thing but construction and pension costs.

The 20 pupils per teacher plan would compare to averages of 40 in the Baltimore area. A per-pupil outlay of $615 is students now in each elementary class, 36 in junior high school grades and 31 in senior high school classes.

The $5,000-10,000 salary range for all educational positions would establish a new teacher pay aver- age of $8,283, instead of the cur- rent average of $5,970.

Although Dr. Fischer's report made no recommendations, it drew some rather obvious conclu- sions under the heading of "ed- ucational effects on pupils."

1. With such a salary range and double the number of teaching po- sitions the Department of Educa- tion "would be in a favorable po- sition to draw experienced teach- ers of proven skill from other school systems and from industry and beginning teachers of marked potential from training institutions all over the country."

2. "It becomes more possible and more likely that the child who is gifted or has unusual talent in any respect will be identified ear- ly and that the program may be fitted to his best development. Likewise the detection and guid- ance of the slow learning pupil is more adequate in a class of 20."

3. The smaller classes will make it possible for teachers to be closer to an understanding of a pupil's problems and capacities. Cumulative records are likely to have more and increasingly per- tinent information about a pupil for a continuing study of his growth and development.

4. "The new conditions are bound to develop a teaching body whose members are relatively highly trained. The master's de- gree or equivalent is likely to be- come increasingly common among beginning teachers."

5. "Facilities are more likely to have teachers of varied back- grounds, thus giving pupils the benefit of a variety of social, ge- ographical and work experience of their teachers."

6. "It is peculiar that small classes seem to require rooms at least as large as larger classes."

7. The area which in a class of 40 is occupied by tables and chairs is taken up by other materials in which children are vitally inter- ested... equipment, books, globes and the like... Thus the ele- mentary classroom tends to re- semble a well-appointed secondary classroom or laboratory. Sec- ondary school English, social studies and language classrooms also tend to become a laboratory-type equipped with small specialized libraries and enriched equip- ment."

8. School systems which have such class sizes and salary ranges influence the community in that they "typically have residents with a great breadth and variety of experience and... The skills of the residents themselves are used as resources in the educational program to a relatively great extent."

The report also detailed with statistical breakdowns, the ex- penditures and facilities required to make such a shift in class size and teacher salaries.

In advance of the meeting, Dr. Fischer said he did not expect the board to take any action at this time "unless somebody just grabs the ball and runs."

Negroes' School Complaint Gets Board Hearing

BALTIMORE, Feb. 6 (AP)—St. Mary's County school officials agreed with a complaint today that a Negro brother and sister could have been admitted to Great Mills High School last fall if they were white children.

But the former county school superintendent, Mrs. Arthur P. Gough Sr., said she refused the requested transfer "in accordance with the policy adopted" by the county Board of Education. She said she "had no right to go beyond that."

William Groves of California, Md., appealed to the State Board of Education from Mrs. Gough's ruling that his son, Thomas, 15, and daughter, Joan, 14, could not transfer from an elementary parochial school, Cardinal Gibbons, to an all-white Great Mills school.

The state board held a special hearing today on that and another Southern Maryland complaint in- volving the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert G. Hart in neighboring Charles County.

Two officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People sat in on the hear- ing. They were L. R. Henderson of Lexington Park, president of the St. Mary's NAACP group, and Lu- ther H. Stuckey of Pitsgah, presi- dent of the Charles County NAACP chapter.

H. Vernon Eney of Baltimore, representing the present St. Mary's superintendent—Robert E. King Jr.—told the board the sole reason for refusing the Groves children was that "integration above the elementary grades was not permitted."

The county board had adopted a policy July 31, 1956, that there would be integration the next September of grades one through six "on a voluntary basis, with approval of the superintendent, if facilities were available."

Gough said he applied for the transfer in February 1957, re- ceived the applications blanks sometime in May, and they were returned marked denied "just about the time school opened."

Board President Wendell D. Allen noted at the outset of the hearing that the 30-day appeal limit, dated from the superintend- ent's action, had expired. Testi- mony was taken only on the ques- tion "of whether the board has the right to pass on the appeal," he said.

Adenauer's Son At Georgetown U.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Rev. Paul Adenauer, son of the West German chancellor, is study- ing small business policies at Georgetown University.

The university announced today that Father Adenauer is spending eight weeks here.

Young Adenauer was ordained as a Catholic priest in 1951. He received a master of arts degree at the University of Bonn last year and then began his doctoral work at the University of Munster. His thesis is "American expe- riences with small business policies, and its significance for Germany."

Truman Settles Speech-Writing Argument

BALTIMORE, Feb. 6 (AP)—Def- initely yes, declared the English instructor, President Truman wrote out his speeches in long- hand.

Not so, said most of his class. The students just couldn't believe that sort of thing happening in this age.

So the Morgan State College in- structor, Harold B. Chinn, went directly to the source for the an- swer.

Today he exhibited his proof. "Dear Mr. Chinn," the letter started.

"In my library here there is ample evidence to support the fact that I wrote my own speeches. For instance, in our display of the Point IV program, there is the message of 1949 written in my own hand. I always wrote them out sometimes from an outline I had dictated previously.

"Sincerely yours,"

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, Feb. 6—(INS)—Got $1,699,148.870 on you? Good. Hand it over to a real estate clearing house named Previews, which has agencies in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Palm Beach, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Paris, and the fellow in charge will give you 486 properties now for sale in 12 states and as many foreign countries.

Most expensive item on the list is the island of Eleuthera in the Bahamas. Columbus slept there. It can be picked up cheap for $2,000,000 and Previews says it's a steal at the price. The island's Hatchet Bay Plantation is a whopper, an operating whopper, with—among other things—40,000 laying hens. As, yes. Previews is throwing in a city, too.

No dice? Well, you ARE a hard sell. All right, then what about something simpler, like the 8-room, plus seven-room guest house, four-acre estate on Clearwater Bay, Florida? It has a carillon tower, and a two-story living room with a $150,000 organ. Sacrificing for $450,000.

Really? The man at Previews finds patience wearing a bit thin, old boy. But here goes with another golden chance:

An entire town with 30 buildings and 70 mining claims thrown in, near Cardwell, Montana. All for a lousy $75,000. The reason it is a ghost town, apparently, is that $3,000,000 in gold was hacked out of the nearby mountain. Plumb worked out, the previous residents figured.

So they pulled out and left 30 buildings, a gurgling mountain stream and the rights to such mines as the Blue Bell, Gold Belt, Morning Star, Ready Cash and — appropriately — the Last Chance.

X-Ray Equipment To Be Modernized

The Allegany County Health Department is seeking estimates on the cost of putting its X-ray equipment in top condition, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer.

He said two firms are preparing estimates of the cost of installing equipment needed to bring the unit up to par.

The work, designed to reduce radiation exposure to the minimum, is being done in line with a recent recommendation made by the State Health Department in connection with the anti-tuberculosis chest X-ray program.

The program calls for systematic inspections of all equipment.

Dr. van Strien said similar checks will be made by the State Health Department on all mobile X-ray units which are used in chest surveys.

Two Senatorial Candidates File

A second contest in the May 20 Republican primary election in Allegany County was assured this week when both announced candidates for the state senate deposited their $25 filing fee and filed with the County Board of Election Supervisors.

They are Senator Charles M. See, who has been elected five times to the House of Delegates beginning in 1938 and has served as state senator by appointment since 1955, and Delegate George R. Hughes Jr., minority leader of the House of Delegates ending his first four-year term in the lower house.

So far five candidates, one a Democrat, have filed for the three jobs as county commissioners. In the other races contests are not yet assured. The filing deadline is midnight Monday, March 10.

Grover Houck Begins Six-Month Sentence

Grover Cleveland Houck, McComellsburg, Pa., has been taken to the Maryland House of Correction to start serving a six-month sentence on two charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods.

The Pennsylvania pleaded guilty to the two charges January 14 and was sentenced last Saturday by Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris in Allegany County Circuit Court.

Deputy Sheriff Paul G. Haberlein also took two other prisoners from the County Jail Tuesday. James Hose, this city, was taken to the House of Correction to start serving an 18-month sentence on three driving charges. James Porter, Hyndman, Pa., but formerly of Corrigansville, was taken to the Maryland Reformatory to begin a term not to exceed one year on a morals charge involving a 13-year-old girl.

Circle Celebrates Anniversary

A history of the Jean Roland Circle and a program were given at the 11th anniversary celebration dinner, Wednesday evening at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Miss Ethel Elbin reported the circle was organized February 3, 1947 at the home of Mrs. Bernard Baker, with 12 members. It since has increased to 25 members.

Miss Dorothy Streett led the worship program, gave the meditation and closing prayer. Scripture quotations were given by Mrs. Barbara Perdew, Mrs. Margaret Twigg, Mrs. Flossie Andrews and Mrs. Ruby Roby. The group sang "Blest Be The Tie" and Mrs. Helen Maguire read a poem, "The House by the Side of the Road."

During the business session it was decided to have a bake sale in conjunction with the WSCS supper; a program for March and a white elephant sale.

Mrs. Leota McClellan welcomed the group. Miss Elbin and Mrs. Helen Walters were in charge of the entertainment. The Meltones, composed of Mrs.

Goldie Streett, Mrs. Winnie Brode, Mrs. Violet Wentling, Mrs. Edith Riggelman and Miss Streett, sang, "My Happiness" and "Don't Fence Me In." Mrs. Joanne Allender read a poem, "Truthful George." Mrs. Betty Adams read some jokes and a humorous skit on insurance was presented by Mrs. Louise Dawson and Mrs. Helen Walters. The Harmonies, consisting of Mrs. Norma Manges, Mrs. Virginia Ferguson, Miss Marjorie Hardinger and Mrs. Madelyn Hanson sang songs popular through the years of the circle, including "Mountain Laurel" and "You, You, You." Mrs. Manges gave an historical review of George Washington; the Meltones sang, "The Bible Tells Me So," and in conclusion the group sang the theme song, which is the anniversary song.

The next meeting will be March 5, at 7:30 at the Melvin Church recreation room.

Nest No. 2180, Order of Owls will meet at 8 tonight. A jewelry fashion show will follow the business session.

Cresaptown WSCS will hold a ham supper February 12 from 4 until 6:30 in the church social hall.

A short business session was conducted by Sarah Rennie. Routine reports were given. Eleven members attended. Concluding the meeting refreshments were served by Betty Jane Wilhelm, Margaret Wilhelm and David Wilhelm.

Fire Chief Parker Opposes Site Of B&O Incinerator

The location of an incinerator being constructed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company was opposed by Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker.

Chief Parker stated his objection in a letter to the railroad and the matter was taken up at an informal meeting yesterday in the office of Mayor Roy W. Eves.

The case first developed in September of 1956 when Mayor Roy W. Eves wrote the railroad requesting that something be done to stop oil from getting into the sewage treatment plant which was under construction.

Officials of the railroad replied that the matter would be straightened out before the sewage plant went into operation.

In March of 1957 the mayor was informed that the railroad was developing plans to construct an incinerator to burn the oil, thus keeping it out of the sewage plant.

Chief Parker yesterday stated at the meeting that when he inspected the site of the incinerator at the request of the railroad, he was opposed to the location.

Chief Parker informed the railroad the location of the incinerator was entirely too close to several tanks holding volatile and flammable liquids, and that prevailing winds from the west would create a nuisance to home owners in this immediate vicinity. The chief also pointed out that it is possible during transfer of these flammable liquids from tank cars to tank under certain atmospheric conditions fumes could be ignited from this incinerator.

It has been pointed out by the railroad that the tanks in question are not owned by the railroad.

Man Is Sentenced For Pawning Guitar

A 28-year-old local man received 30 days in the County Jail when he failed to raise $15 to get an electric guitar from a pawn shop and return it to the owner.

Trial Magistrate Donald W. Mason in sentencing Eugene Seibert, who lives at Springdale and Thomas streets, said he would consider suspending the 30-day term if the defendant can come up with the $15.

The case was heard January 22 in Trial Magistrates Court here. Seibert pleaded guilty to borrowing the electric guitar with amplifier from the owner, Howard F. Emerick.

Seibert admitted hocking the instrument valued at $165 for $15 at a pawn shop. Mason deferred sentencing until yesterday to permit Seibert to raise the $15 and return the guitar, but yesterday the defendant said he didn't have the money.

Property Board Hears Land Case

The Allegany County Board of Property Review yesterday heard a State Roads Commission land acquisition case involving property on Route 36 at the outskirts of Corrikanville.

The land is owned by Mrs. Grace Snyder and the state took a portion of it for the widening and relocating of Route 36 through that community.

James A. Avirett represented Mrs. Snyder. Testifying, besides Mrs. Snyder, was James A. Perrin, local realtor.

City Hall To Get 'Coffee Break' Room

A small room located in the rotunda of the City Hall is being prepared as a lounge for the city women employees, the work being done under the supervision of Commissioner William H. Buchholz.

The room will be used principally for "coffee breaks," the commissioner said. Most of the City Hall offices have been preparing coffee on hot plates, or else sending out to nearby restaurants.

County Board Gets Water Complaint

Edgar Isner, who resides on Johnson Road, appeared before the Allegany County Board of Commissioners Tuesday to complain of water from the roadway running across his property and damaging the foundation of his home.

He said he understood the county was going to run a drainage pipe across his property from the road to a creek nearby. Commissioner James Orr said that after a check of the property it was felt that the county could not enter onto private property for such a project.

VFW Urging Route 40 Work

Members of Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW, have adopted a resolution favoring the earliest possible construction of U. S. Route 40 between Cumberland and Hancock.

Similar resolutions have been adopted by Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose and a Order of Eagles.

The resolution says in part that the construction of a safe, adequate and modern highway from Cumberland to Hancock is the most urgently needed highway project in Western Maryland, and that this route links Cumberland and Allegany County with Baltimore, Annapolis and Washington.

It further notes that the Route 40 construction from here to Hancock is embodied in the state's revised 15-year roads program and is scheduled to be built in the next phase of the program.

The resolution urges the Allegany County delegation to take all necessary steps to have this route given top priority on the construction schedule, with copies of the resolution to be sent to the members of the State Roads Commission and the governor, as well as the legislators.

Delinquency Answer?

MONTREAL, Feb. 6 (AP)—Dr. Chaim Sheba, reporting that Israel has practically no juvenile delinquency problem, said a couple of years of tough military service for all teen-agers may be responsible.

"After a young man has been in the army for a while and experienced some real discipline," the director of Israel's Tel Hashomer Hospital told an Israeli bond rally, "he begins to realize that home was not so bad after all."

Phone Lines Are Installed

Work on several trunk lines to increase the number of telephone circuits from Cumberland to nearby exchanges has been completed, according to Robert G. Garner, local manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company.

The board of directors of the telephone firm allotted $45,000 for the work here in August and crews of the Western Electric Company began work on the installation of new materials in November.

Mr. Garner said the improved facilities is a part of the proposal last summer which called for a wider range of calling for this section of the state.

Charles C. Bender Heads Heart Drive In Garrett County

Legionnaires Aid Campaign

GRANTSVILLE — Charles C. Bender, well known native Garrett countian, has advised F. Allan Weatherholt, Cumberland, president of the Allegany-Garrett Heart Association, that he will serve as general chairman for Garrett county's part in the annual campaign.

Mr. Bender is a Pacific Theatre veteran of World War II, is a graduate of the University of Maryland, is past commander, past finance officer and adjutant of Grantsville Post No. 214, American Legion. He was vice-commander for Mountain District, American Legion, last year. He is a member of the Heart Association board of directors, a member of the Grantsville Rotary Club, and has been active in numerous local, county and state affairs.

In connection with the Garrett County campaign, Mr. Bender said that residents of the county are aware of the need for funds to continue the vast research into causes and cures of heart ailments, as well as money to finance the local community services programs.

In Allegany and Garrett counties, he noted, a total of 239 children are presently receiving regular medical treatment and recreational and educational care directly from the Heart Association. A large percentage of these children, victims of rheumatic fever, are residents of the mountainous sections of Garrett County, he said. The fact that the Heart Association provides them with daily medication and other assistance, is bringing them back to health, and assuring them long, active adult lives, he noted.

Many individuals and organizations in Garrett County have already indicated their willingness to aid the annual fund drive. Mr. Bender declared that various leaders are being assigned to special tasks in the campaign.

Is There A Cure For Brooklyn's Sickness?

At a moment when the attention of the nation is focused on the deficiencies of the American educational system, it is dismal indeed to read what is happening in the New York public schools. The breakdown of law and order there is shocking.

A special grand jury in Brooklyn is investigating crime in the schools; three young girls have been raped in the schools in recent days; a school principal was under such heavy stress and strain that he took his own life.

The latest development is that the police department has felt it necessary to take policemen off the streets and station them in the schools to protect pupils from youthful gangsters.

In a statement which sounds more ominous than reassuring, the grand jury says the stationing of police in the schools is only a temporary and emergency measure "until such time as the board of education takes the necessary steps to remove hoodlums, rapists, thieves, extortionists, arsonists, and vandals from the schools."

It is obvious that something is basically and terribly wrong when crime can run so rampant and so unchecked in a city's schools that police have to patrol them like so many waterfront dives.

New York City, and particularly Brooklyn where this malignant sickness is apparently worse, needs a great deal more than the strengthening of curriculums and the tightening of intellectual disciplines that experts have been talking about.

Some way must be found to restore the elements of law and order and respect for authority which are basic to any civilized society before these schools can even begin to do an adequate job of their primary business of providing education for the young.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

West German Miracle

The so-called West German miracle is a product of hard work and national will and that, as much as any other factor, has altered the face of post-war Europe. It has established the possibility of an economic if not altogether a political union of Western European countries.

The weakness of Western Europe, since World War I, has been an inability of most of the countries that compose it, to recognize that in the 20th century it would grow increasingly difficult for empires to live on the produce of the weak and backward nations. The basic error of Western Europe was that it fought World War I at all. The destruction of the Kaiser's Germany and the Austro-Hungarian Empire; the stimulation of nationalistic discontent among Asian and African peoples; the impact of the United States upon European life; the Bolshevik Revolution; and the emergence of Japan as an equal of the West in the councils of nations—these and the elimination of the doctrine of the freedom of the seas by emergence of the submarine and the airplane as weapons of war, inevitably led to the ultimate destruction of the British, French and Dutch Empires.

Therefore, Western Europe was left without real political power and economic stability. Germany, which for a thousand years, in one political form or another, had kept the Slav out of Europe, no longer was capable of maintaining any political force until Hitler emerged with the one possible doctrine that could unite a broken people, namely the Nietzschean concept of the Superman and Houston Stewart Chamberlain's doctrine of the superiority of the Nordic races.

Hitler succeeded after all other German wise men had failed. He re-established Germany as a strong nation, strong enough to hold the entire world at bay for six years on multiple fronts. Whether Hitler was mad or sane, right or wrong, decent or obscene no longer matters, for he is dead, burned on a pyre of his own making. What does matter and what is so frightening is that his strategy and tactics are now being used by Nasser in the Arab world.

After World War II, Germany was really broken. Divided into zones, with the Russians masters of Berlin and Vienna, with the United States illogically pro-Russian and indeed a poor reed to lean upon, it looked very much as though Henry Morgenstau, Jr.'s concept of a Spartan peace would come about by historic causes.

Then West Germany went to work. While all the rest of Europe was wondering what to do with its rubble and most countries were wasting American aid, West Germany set out to form capital. Between 1948 and 1956, productivity in Germany rose from 100 to 214 (using index numbers).

Economic success must be accompanied by political stability and international growth in importance. West Germany has produced a stable government under Chancellor Adenauer; it has so grown in international importance that Adenauer dominated the recent meeting of NATO. It has again become a formidable power.

It has not all been political. Much of West Germany's success is due to the will of the people. For instance, the restoration of industry became almost a religious compulsion, everybody pitching in. What has been the plague of Great Britain, for instance, the union sabotage of new techniques and the realignment of labor to meet new methods, hardly affected West Germany. Also there have been fewer strikes than in most countries, despite the fact that Soviet Russia is just across the street in East Germany and has been conducting an anti-governmental and anti-capitalistic campaign in West Germany.

Professor David McCord Wright, in his pamphlet, "Post-War West German and United Kingdom Recovery," summarizes the situation in this paragraph:

"The economic choice faced by West Germany after the currency reform, and granting of substantial autonomy in 1948, was a basic one. Had she followed the prevalent European and U. K. labor pattern she would have gone in for heavy control, rationing state directed investment, sharply progressive taxation, tremendous emphasis upon equality. Instead her policies were entirely different. Emphasis was placed upon incentive rather than literal equality, upon a free market rather than planning, upon modernization rather than routine. She did maintain a most generous and comprehensive social security system, but did not accept the usual myth that such a system is necessarily linked with high progressive income taxes."

Two Passengers On The Jupiter-C

End Of Strategic Air Command Is In Sight

By Joseph Alsop

PARIS
The Soviet Union is now building a new air defense system that is expected to neutralize the present American nuclear deterrent, the Strategic Air Command.

When the new system is completed, effective defense against attack by SAC aircraft will be provided by a novel combination of importantly improved radars and anti-aircraft missiles with nuclear warheads.

The American government is the ultimate source of this news, which is an ironic commentary on official Washington's boastful exultation over the American Sputnik.

According to an American intelligence estimate presented to NATO, the new Soviet air defense system will be fully installed within five years, which means that five years is the life term of SAC as now constituted. Furthermore, the NATO forecasters, with the British in the lead, are convinced that the West ought to be prepared for completion of the new Soviet air defense system at a much earlier date, within two to three years.

In this connection, it is worth noting that there is no case on record of any American joint intelligence estimate of any form of Soviet weapons development which was not decidedly over-optimistic. From the atomic bomb onwards, the minimum error in forecasting the moments when the Soviets would have new weapons has always been two years, and often the error has been much greater. If a two-year error is assumed in the American estimate, the NATO-British estimate of Soviet air defense progress is approximately confirmed.

The difference is of desperate importance, because of its bearing on what the experts call the "missile gap." This is the period when the Soviets will be able to attack the United States with intercontinental ballistic missiles, whereas the United States will only be able to retaliate with aircraft.

If the American time estimate given above is fortunately correct, then the missile gap will have been bridged before the Soviet air defense system is completed. In other words, the U.S. will have the new retaliatory power of its own intercontinental ballistic missiles before the aircraft of SAC lose their usefulness.

But if the NATO-British time estimate is correct, the new Soviet air defense system will be completed long before the U.S. can hope to have operational ICBMs. Thus there will be a period when SAC's aircraft will not constitute a serious threat to the Soviets, while the Soviet ICBMs will constitute a most serious threat to the United States.

The dangers of this period will not be enormously lessened, either, by the emplacement of intermediate range ballistic missiles on this side of the Atlantic, on the territory of our NATO allies. The U.S., the necessary leader of the West, will have no retaliatory power of its own. The whole burden of defending the U.S. will thus be placed upon the other Western allies. The mere political and diplomatic consequences of such an anomalous situation hardly bear thinking about.

Yet it is clear that Soviet progress with their new air defense system was a major factor in the American decision to press so hard for acceptance of intermediate range ballistic missiles by the other NATO nations. In fact the American intelligence estimate was actually presented to NATO in the context of the IRBM debate. The purpose, plainly, was to show that the West's nuclear retaliatory power needed to be strengthened by every available expedient.

To make matters worse, even the relatively optimistic American estimate implies that the Soviets have stolen a march on the United States in two further, highly important fields of weapons development, radars and rocket fuels.

The radars the Soviets are now producing for their new air defense system are admittedly superior to the American radars now in use in the Canadian DEW-

WASHINGTON—The Arkansas traveler, Congressman Oren Harris, has kept such a throttle-hold on the Moulder Committee and so fumed and fulminated over leaks to this column that it's sometimes difficult to report what goes on behind closed doors.

That's why this column is a little late in reporting a highly significant secret debate which took place before Congress convened when Bobby Hale of Maine and John Heselton of Massachusetts rushed down from New England to try to block the Federal Communications Commission investigation. These two New England Republicans hate to leave New England when Congress is not in session, but they made the trip because three other eminent New England Republicans were in trouble.

The three in trouble included the highest dignitaries in the Grand Old Party:

Sherman Adams, former Governor of New Hampshire, now assistant president, Sinclair Weeks, of Boston, former National GOP treasurer, now Secretary of Commerce. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, former Governor of Massachusetts, now Senator.

Heselton and Hale were valiant and effective. They did not refer to the above distinguished blue-bloods. In fact, they didn't refer to any one case. They just stormed against the general investigation.

Tell-Tale Questionnaires

"This is the worst thing I have seen since I have been in Congress," shouted Congressman Heselton, usually a moderate. He was referring to a questionnaire asking top officials on regulatory commissions to list gifts received from businessmen they regulate.

A similar questionnaire was demanded of Democrats by Republicans when Truman was in office after this column helped expose mink coats, hams and deep freezers. But now the tables were reversed and the Republicans yelled against the same type of questionnaires.

"This questionnaire starts out by assuming the officials are guilty," continued Heselton.

"No one assumed all of them are guilty," replied Dr. Bernard Schwartz, committee counsel whom the Republicans plus Arkansas' Harris are now trying to dump.

Heselton then accused Schwartz of preparing the questionnaire in secret and not letting Congressmen see it in advance. Schwartz suggested that Heselton examine his file. The Congressman from Massachusetts thumbed through the cardboard folder he had brought to the meeting.

"Oh," he said sheepishly, "you don't mean this questionnaire of August 30?"

"I assumed," said Schwartz, "since there were no objections, you approved every question."

Why New England Worry?

In the end, the committee agreed to accept the questionnaire but keep the answer under lock and key. The power of public opinion has now forced out answers regarding free TV sets and free travel received from the TV industry. But much more searching problems remain to be examined, including the real reason the two New England Congressmen hastened back to Washington to protect their high-up New England friends.

For one of the most interesting cases of wire-pulling which Moulder Committee probes have poked into is that of the Boston Herald and Traveler and a TV license worth about $20,000,000. This choice TV plum went to the staunch Republican Herald and Traveler after FCC examiner James Cunningham recommended against it, but after Messrs. Sherman Adams, Sinclair Weeks and Leverett Saltonstall put their powerful fingers in the FCC pie.

The multimillion-dollar TV channel was also granted after amazing threats by the Herald and Traveler that it would put the Boston Globe out of business. These threats are now a matter of official record.

They have been filed by the owners of the Boston Globe, an independent newspaper, who told how Robert Choate, owner of the Herald-Traveler, had tried for two years to force a merger of the Globe and the Herald-Traveler. On legal advice, since this would be in violation of the anti-trust laws, they refused.

Killing The Competition

Choate then angrily threatened "to do his best to put the Globe out of business," charged Globe president Davis Taylor in a sworn statement, and, if he won a TV license, "to use his newspaper, radio station and television station to injure the Globe."

"If I get Channel 6 I may drive you out of business," Choate threatened Globe treasurer John Taylor, according to another filed affidavit.

The Globe's advertising director, John F. Reid, told of another conversation with Choate at a Clover Club reception March 10 at which Choate asked: "When are you coming to work for the Herald-Traveler?"

When Reid said he was satisfied with his job, Choate retorted: "Wait until we get our TV station and see what happens."

The FCC is supposed to allocate TV channels on the basis of free competition, not to monopolize either advertising or news dissemination. Despite this, thanks to wire-pulling in high places, FCC commissioners did a loop-the-loop and gave the monopoly-making TV channel to the Herald-Traveler.

This is what Congressmen Hale and Heselton don't want investigated.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

When Jayne Mansfield tires of the honeymoon, I have a book for her to read. It is called "THE MOVIES." As books go, it is new and, if it does not climb the best seller lists, you can attribute it to the price: $15. The writers are Richard Griffith and Arthur Mayer and they have done a 60-year history of motion pictures that is aimed directly at America's Number One Movie Fan: Miss Mansfield.

In size the book is a little smaller than a sports car. There are 1,000 photos and 150,000 singing words inside and these range all the way from John Bunny and the first nickelodeons to Marlon Brando in a torn shirt. It is full of old stills that wrenched this heart a little, and it provides, in a most considerate manner, postscripts to some great careers.

This is the part I wish to draw to the attention of Jayne Mansfield. She is too new, as a star, to be in this book, but she is too old and wise to think that her career is going to last forever. And, unless I misunderstand everything she told me in a week of conferences last summer, Jayne is going to spend herself into oblivion.

She cares not for money. Stardom is what she wants, and that is what she has got. Her figure is a caricature out of College Humor, and her sense of humor is frail. Her mind, when you get around to it, is that of a Texas schoolteacher — which is what she is.

However, as the only movie fan ever to become a movie star, she is a throwback to the silent days.

She wants the biggest Cadillacs in pink with leopard skin upholstery and leopards. She wants 30-room mansions and swimming pools smaller than San Diego Bay with tigers licking their paws on the lawn and buckets of champagne (pink) on the diving board. She wants an Associated Press office over the parsons and a direct line to Louella Parsons. For overnight hikes in the woods, she prefers $15,000 sable coats which can be stuffed into the kitchen garbage can when they get soiled.

I draw her attention to pages 246 and 247 of THE MOVIES. Here, a few careers are dissected. Norma Talmadge, who saved her pennies, quit the movies when she was ready. Later, when a fan asked for her autograph, she smiled brassy and murmured: "Go away, dear. I don't need you anymore." Clara Bow, who received 20,000 fan letters a week, worked too hard and spends the years in a sanitarium.

Corinne Griffith said: "Why should I go on until I'm playing mother roles?" She lives in Washington, is active in politics, and has money that she hasn't even folded. Pola Negri was a greater star than Miss Mansfield, but she returned to America from a European triumph broke. Today, she works on her interminable memoirs in a small flat.

May McAvoy was an all-time favorite, but she ended in the limbo of ex-stars who haunt the casting directors' office, to their embarrassment. Marie Prevost was dark and pretty and she moved from stardom downward to "leading lady" parts, to character parts to bit parts to standing outside Hollywood theatres on opening nights hoping that someone would recognize her. She died of scotch poisoning.

One of the ladies who felt herself skidding off the pinnacle wanted to quit before the fans turned their backs on her. Her producer said she couldn't quit, unless by an act of God. "A New York millionaire wants to marry me," she shrieked, "and if that ain't an Act of God, you tell me what is."

Vilma Banky, Coleen Moore, Ruth Chatterton, Nancy Carroll, Mae Clarke, Helen Twelvetrees, Constance Bennett, Billy Dove, Deanna Durbin, Jean Arthur — all gone. Some saved. Some died. The time that fame allotted to them averages 12 years.

John Wayne and Clark Gable can grow old. Jayne Mansfield cannot. The price of beauty is that no one is allowed to keep it. The figure, the face, the features are only on loan.

Too few stars think of it. When the going is soft and downy. They thought kept recurring as I slowly flipped the pages of THE MOVIES. The book is more than a dissertation on motion pictures. It is also, by inadvertence, a history of the America in which we live.

Forty years from now, someone will be writing a hundred-year history of the movies. In it, the fans will learn that once upon a time, in grandpa's day, there was a girl named Jayne Mansfield. They will study the outrageous figure, the thick lips, the crinkly eyes, and they will say: "Oh brother!"

Simple Measures Help Prevent Common Cold

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

There is no perfect way to prevent the common cold. But using good sense will help, especially when colds are prevalent. The following information may prove of value:

1. Maintain clean surroundings to minimize the virus population. The causative agents, located in the nasal and throat secretions, are spewed into the air while breathing, talking, coughing, sneezing, or blowing the nose. The result is contamination of the floors, furniture, and other objects in the home or office. Good ventilation helps and the avoidance of overcrowding minimizes the chance of being exposed.

2. Develop good health habits. Do not spit, cough, sneeze, or blow the nose without using a handkerchief or tissue to keep the viruses out of the air. Washing the face and hands several times a day decreases the chances of acquiring or passing along the causative organisms by the hand-mouth route.

3. Fatigue and sudden changes of temperature alter the defense mechanism of the membranes of the nose and throat. Going from overheated quarters out into wintry blasts often causes nasal congestion and other respiratory symptoms.

4. Some persons "catch cold" when they are overworked or do not get enough sleep.

5. The relationship between emotional stress and colds was shown by a detailed study of absenteeism among telephone employees. Colds were 12 times more prevalent among workers who were discontented, unhappy, or difficult to get along with.

6. A well balanced diet improves general health but there is no proof that a particular food will increase resistance to infection.

7. All things being equal, some persons are more resistant to colds than are others. This type of resistance is not affected by

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

A chap who loved his weekend golf was laid low by an attack of gripe. After a fortnight, he was all set to resume play when he suffered a relapse. "Why can't you play this time?" grumbled his constant opponent on the links. "Let me put it this way," said the stricken one glumly. "My trouble is an overlapping gripe."

"When we speak of the Seven Seas," proposed the professor, "let us be specific." "Okay," agreed a fresh Frosh. "You be specific, and I'll be Atlantic."

A tearful bride explained why she wanted to leave her brand-new husband. "He said that on our honeymoon we would drink in all the sights of Manhattan—

but instead, he drank up all the Manhattans in sight."

Two cows tried to nudge their way inside a barn at the same time. "Take it easy, sister," cautioned one. "Where were you brought up: in a house?"

B & O Veterans Plan System Meeting Here

Plans were completed here yesterday for the 28th annual convention of the B & O Veterans Association which will be held here May 21-23.

The arrangements were completed at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office, attended by the tourist and convention committee of the Chamber and officials of the B & O Veterans headed by J. Carl Burdett, Baltimore, grand chief.

1,000 May Attend

Attending the convention, the first to be held in Cumberland, will be 700 to 750 delegates from other units of the B & O system and about 200 delegates and guests from Cumberland Division units.

The association comprises 43 divisions, including Cumberland Division No. 5, and is composed of B & O workers who have 20 or more years of service.

Details were worked out by the B & O Veterans delegation and the C of C unit headed by Thomas F. Conlon Jr., for accommodations, transportation and special activities, including a tour of historical landmarks of this transportation center.

Session of the convention will be held in the Fort Cumberland Hotel, where registration is scheduled May 21.

Plan Historical Tour

Business session for the Auxiliary will open May 22 at 9 a. m. and for the Veterans at 9:30 a. m.

A dinner at St. Mary's Hall and a dance at the Eagles Home is on the program for that day, and a sightseeing trip, followed by a luncheon, for the closing of the three-day meeting.

J. W. Daugherty is chairman and L. C. Wilcox and C. E. Hardy co-chairmen for the convention. Mrs. George H. Barnard is serving as secretary.

Veterans and Auxiliary units in Keyser are cooperating in plans for the system-wide convention.

Boy Remains Unconscious Since Dec. 9

A 17-year-old Lonaconing youth, Lloyd Wayne Smith, remains unconscious at Potomac Valley Hospital in Keyser with injuries sustained in a one-car crash at McCoolle on December 9, two-months ago Sunday.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Smith. Driver of the car, which went out of control on U. S. Route 220, was Willard Wiland, 20, of Midland. Both he and his brother, Wendell Wiland, 16, also were injured.

The car went out of control on a curve and ran up an embankment, flipped over and rolled back on the road. Smith was pinned under the wreckage.

Traffic Moves Over Big Fill At New Bridge

Traffic began moving over a huge fill at the Cumberland end of the Evitts Creek Bridge on Route 51 yesterday morning.

G. Bates Chaires, district SRC engineer, said the first traffic moved over the fill at about 10:30 a. m.

He said a temporary surface was provided for use until a permanent roadway can be laid this spring.

As the new approach was opened to traffic, the SRC closed a temporary approach placed at the site and Harrison Construction Company crews began the demolition of the old Evitts Creek Bridge.

The construction of the fill which will carry Route 51 traffic upon the new bridge will allow the Pittsburgh firm to expedite work on the huge B & O yard improvement project.

The firm will complete a big fill adjacent to the new road and divert water from Evitts Creek under the new span and a big concrete archway.

The big earth-moving job was performed for the State Roads Commission by the Pittsburgh company.

W.Va. Gas Rate Hearing Closes Until April

CHARLESTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—The Public Service Commission continued late today until April 15 for C & A. Asst. Vice Pres. C. F. Waterman of Pittsburgh, and Malcom F. Orton, an independent consultant from Albany, N. Y.

Stockhausen testified that the value of production property at Terra Alta, Preston County, and expenses connected with that part of the C & A plant, were not included in the present rate case.

He said the impending sale of that property to Atlantic Seaboard Corp., like C & A an affiliate of the Columbia Gas System, caused the property to be omitted in company statistics. If the Terra Alta property would have been included in the present case, Stockhausen said, the company would have sought an additional $200,000 in rates.

Waterman's testimony dealt generally with the company's cost of obtaining and delivering gas to customers, particularly in cold weather.

C & A told the commission it lost $69,000 on its operation in the state during a 12-month period ended last July 31. Its proposed new rates would provide a rate of return on the C & A investment of slightly more than 6.75 per cent.

C & A serves such communities as Elkins, Philippi, Kingwood, Piedmont, Terra Alta and Keyser.

C. F. Waterman of Pittsburgh, assistant C & A vice president, on the witness stand much of today, pointed out several items he said had increased the price in recent years and pushed the utility's operating costs upward.

The cost of laying a foot of customer service line, Waterman said, was 65 cents in 1940; $3.60 in 1955, and $4.46 in July of 1957.

Customer meters rose from $11.20 in 1940 to $23.27 in July of last year. One hundred feet of six-inch pipe cost $45.07 in 1940; $144 in 1955, and $168.96 last July, Waterman said. Average hourly wages of class A welders increased from 95 cents in 1940 to $2.28 in 1955, and $2.55 by last July.

Merit System Chief Fired

CHARLESTON, Feb. 6 (AP)—Gov. Underwood said tonight that the post in which Mrs. Stanley has been acting supervisor of the State Merit System Council since last February has been removed from state employment and faces formal charges for alleged misappropriation of funds.

He added that Mrs. Louise Stanley of Charleston, who has been a merit system council employee since 1941, faced arraignment tonight before Magistrate Ira E. Baxter of Big Chimney.

The announcement at a news conference coincided with the appointment of Welch H. Henritze Jr. of Bartley in McDowell County as merit system supervisor, effective immediately, to fill the post in which Mrs. Stanley has been serving in an acting role.

Here is a be-my-Valentine dessert to make as a seasonal surprise for the family on a February evening. A Sweetheart Cobbler of red, plump frozen cherries topped with biscuit hearts — oh-so-good because of the just-off-the-tree flavor of this fine fruit.

For such a delicious dessert, there is not much fuss and muss — a half package of biscuit mix forms the Sweetheart topping. Just a touch of almond flavoring emphasizes the cherry aroma, but the bright red color of the frozen cherries is natural — no added color needed for these. Use this recipe for Washington's birthday, too, making the cobbler topping a hatchet or a cherry tree.

Sweetheart Cherry Cobbler

1 20-oz. or 2 10-oz. cans or packages frozen pitted red tart cherries in heavy syrup or with sugar, defrosted
1/2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 recipe biscuit topping

Defrost cherries and drain. (Approximately 1 1/2 cups cherries and 1 1/4 cups juice will result.) Mix sugar, cornstarch, and salt. Add this to a small amount of the juice and stir to make a paste. Heat remaining juice and stir paste into it gradually until thickened and clear. Remove from heat and stir in flavoring and butter or margarine.

Spread drained cherries in bottom of 1 1/2-quart casserole. Top with thickened sauce. Make biscuit topping (using 1/2 package biscuit mix or 1/2 your favorite biscuit recipe). Cut heart shapes and place over filling. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) about 15 minutes until biscuits are golden brown and sauce bubbly. Serve warm with cream or ice cream. Serves eight.

Chicken India

(Makes 4-6 servings)

1 (4-6 pound) chicken, cut in pieces
Celery tops
1 small onion, sliced
3 tablespoons chicken fat
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups chicken broth
1/2 cup milk powder
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
2 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup shredded coconut

Place chicken in large saucepan with celery tops and onion; cover with water. Simmer 3 to 4 hours until chicken is tender. Skim chicken fat from surface of broth, combine fat and flour in top of double boiler. Cook, over hot water, stirring occasionally, for 5 minutes. Blend in broth. Sprinkle milk powder and curry over the surface. Beat with a rotary beater until just blended. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Place rice in bottom of a 2-quart casserole; arrange chicken pieces on top. Pour curry sauce over chicken; sprinkle with coconut. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 10 minutes, until coconut is lightly browned and casserole is piping hot.

2 medium-size onions, chopped
2 apples, washed, cored and diced
1 cup water
2 chicken bouillon cubes
1/2 cup raisins
1 tablespoon curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon powdered ginger
1/2 teaspoon powdered cloves
1/2 teaspoon black pepper

Mint Mallow Freeze

(Makes about 8 servings)

2 cups liquid instant milk
1/2 lb. (32) marshmallows, quartered
1/4 teaspoon salt
Few drops essence of peppermint
Few drops green vegetable coloring
1/4 cup water

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 cup instant milk powder

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. In top of double boiler, combine liquid instant milk, marshmallows and salt. Stirring constantly, heat over boiling water until marshmallows melt. Remove from heat. Cool. Add essence of peppermint and green vegetable coloring. Pour mixture into refrigerator tray and freeze until almost firm, about 2 hours. Pour 1/4 cup water and lemon juice into 1-quart bowl. Sprinkle instant milk powder over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 8 to 10 minutes. Turn marshmallow mixture into bowl. Beat until smooth and free from lumps. Fold in whipped milk mixture. Return to two refrigerator trays and freeze until firm, about 2 hours.

Men! A Man-Made Menu For Your Valentine Supper Friday Menu

A man-made dinner for his own "queen of hearts" is a made-in-heaven idea for Valentine's Day. This is the day when the lady of the house would love to languish lavishly, while the master creates a dinner for two, and it need not be a man-sized chore, thanks to the motorized magic of an Osterizer liquefier-blender. It is already known to the lady of the house as the appliance that adds new ease, new versatility to daily meal planning and preparation. It's the key to a simply prepared, simply delicious Valentine's Day dinner that will make any wife feel as though she's being courted all over again!

Here is our suggested menu for a "Sweetheart Supper" for two:

Love Apple Cocktail
¾ cup tomato juice
¼ cup evaporated milk
1½ teaspoon celery salt
¼ teaspoon salt
Pinch black pepper
¼ cup cracked ice
Blend until smooth and frothy.

Meat Loaf Supreme
(with enough left over for next day's sandwiches)
Place in blender container
1 egg
½ cup water
1 onion, quartered
Tops from 3 stalks celery — in pieces
3 sprigs parsley
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sage
¼ teaspoon pepper
Blend until vegetables are chopped. Mix with 1 pound ground beef
¼ pound bulk pork sausage
Pack into loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees for about 50 minutes.

Red Wine Dressing
over mixed greens & tomatoes
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon mustard

Barbecued Veal Cutlets Are Treat

There's always room in your file of recipe ideas for just one more... this one is Barbecued Veal Cutlets.

Veal, being very mild in flavor, makes an excellent combination with barbecue sauce. Barbecued meat, depending on the amount of seasonings, has wide appeal among oldsters and youngsters, alike.

Reba Staggs, home economist, explains that veal, being young beef, provides cuts that are actually one-half the size of comparable beef cuts. Because of the young age at which these animals are marketed, the resulting veal cuts have very little fat. As a result, fat is usually added when roasting a veal roast. This may be in the form of bacon strips. Also boned and rolled veal roasts often have a fat covering wrapped around the meat by the retailer. In preparing chops, cutlets and steaks, it is best if they're braised since the veal will be more tender and juicy by the time it is cooked to the well-done stage.

Barbecued Veal Cutlets

- 2 veal round steaks, cut $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick
- 4 tablespoons lard or drippings
- 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- 3 tablespoons catchup
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon sugar
- $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped

Cut veal round steaks into 6 servings. Brown cutlets slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Combine remaining ingredients, mixing thoroughly. Pour sauce over ribs. Cover tightly and cook slowly, about 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until tender. Turn occasionally to coat cutlets with sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Spicy Fruit Flip

(Makes 4 8-oz. glasses)
2 medium-size bananas, sliced
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 quart liquid instant milk, chilled
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon powdered ginger
Beat together banana slices and lemon juice with rotary beater or electric mixer; stir in liquid instant milk. Beat until well blended. Blend in ginger.

Starlac Mocha Frost

(Makes 1 8-oz. glass)
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup water
2 tablespoons instant milk powder
1 teaspoonful instant coffee, powder
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chocolate ice cream
Pour water into a deep 1-quart bowl; sprinkle instant milk powder and instant coffee over surface. Stir until dissolved, then in ice cream until melted and frothy.

Toast, A Tradition At Breakfast

Toast—fragrant and piping hot—the very thought of it paired with a steaming hot beverage has become the nation's breakfast call. This breakfast favorite is vastly different from its humble beginning, once defined as, "bread dried and scorched before a fire." Looking backward, however, the serving of bread or toast has become a record of progress of the human race. Out of ageless time, bread emerged. By accident, the Egyptians discovered that dough could be leavened and possibly the first toasting was also an accident. Its recorded history begins with that of crude toasters wrought from iron. Some of these are now in museums and from the Index of American Design, Washington, D. C., came the information for this drawing.

This toaster was the latest in styling for hearthside cookery. It was offered as a post-war model for the Revolutionary War housewife of the Pennsylvania-German countryside. Boasting a 24-inch handle, the toaster afforded greater convenience and protection from scorching of hands. The swivel breadholder was a bold new departure in design, outmoding the gridiron made with 10 horizontal bars held in a frame.

What a big hop across the years to modern toast, made in seconds. It is easy to make good toast—and if enriched bread is used, the essential B vitamins and iron remain at high levels.

Make toast extra special for breakfast with this topping:

Taffy Walnut Toast

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup soft butter or margarine
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons molasses
10 slices enriched bread toast
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup chopped walnuts
Cream butter and confectioners' sugar together until light and fluffy. Blend in molasses. Spread 1 tablespoon molasses mixture on each slice of hot toast. Sprinkle with nuts. Serve immediately. Yield: 5 servings—2 slices toast per serving.

LaSalle Accepts Invitation To Newport Tournament

ESCIT Games Are Set For March 26-29

Explorers Have Won 16 In Row This Year; Copped 1944 Title

LaSalle High School has accepted an invitation to participate in the Eastern States Catholic Interscholastic Basketball Tournament at Newport, R.I., March 26, 27, 28 and 29, it was announced last night by Brother Thomas, athletic director at the North Centre Street school.

Brother Thomas stated that the letter of acceptance will be in the mail today.

The Explorers last participated in the ESCIT in 1945 after winning the championship in 1944 when William V. Keegan was coach.

Coach George Geatz's current LaSalle aggregation has won 16 consecutive games and has six more games on its schedule. Remaining contests on the Explorers' schedule are with Bedford, Northern and Fort Hill at home and Bruce, Beall and Allegany away.

Since the final game on LaSalle's regular 22-game schedule is set for February 28 at Campobello, the Explorers must arrange a number of practice games to fill the gap prior to the tournament contests the latter part of March. Brother Thomas stated.

There is a possibility LaSalle also will vie in the annual Catholic Tournament at College Park provided the dates for that event precede the tournament at Newport.

Canadian Girl Cops Ski Title

BAD GASTEIN, Austria, Feb. 6.—Lucille Wheeler of Canada outskied the best from Austria, Switzerland, France and the United States today to win the downhill race and give Canada its first world Alpine championship.

Miss Wheeler, a secretary, barely edged out Frieda Daenzer of Switzerland, who had 2:12.4, and Carla Marchelli of Italy, timed in 2:12.5.

American girls were big disappointments.

Linda Meyer of Bishop, Calif., admitted "we apparently misjudged snow conditions." Her time was 2:18.9 for 19th place.

The best American was Penny Pitou of Guilford, N.H., making her first race of the championship. She finished 11th with 2:17.3.

Three Pros Tie For First Place In Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 6.—Frank Stranahan and two pros seeking their first circuit victories, Bill Johnston and Manuel de la Torre, tied today for the first round lead in the $15,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

The trio scored 6-under-par 64s. John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich., and Jim Higgins, Anderson, S.C., who has never finished better than 17th in a major tournament, were one stroke behind.

Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., the reigning PGA champ, Jerry Barber of Los Angeles and Tony Lema, Napa, Calif., were tied with 66s.

Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N.C., former U.S. Open champ, and Dow Finsterwald, defending Tucson Open champion, were among eight tied at three strokes behind the leaders.

West Virginia Beats Redmen

Mountaineers Post 16th Win, 87 To 78

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Top ranked West Virginia showed its class by coming from behind in the second half and shaking off scrappy St. John's of Brooklyn for an 87-78 basketball victory tonight. It was the 16th success in 17 starts for the Mountaineers.

Holy Cross, with Jack Whelan leading a second half spurt, defeated NYU 79-74 in the first game of the college basketball double-header at Madison Square Garden.

St. John's, now 10-3, upset the Mountaineers somewhat in the first half when they five times hustled from behind and took a 40-38 lead at the intermission.

Little Al Seiden, a 5-10 ball of fire, touched off the St. John's fireworks and outduelled West Virginia's fine sophomore, Jerry West, for top scoring honors. At though three men took turns guarding Seiden he finished with 30 points. West led West Virginia's balanced attack with 21.

The Mountaineers took the lead for good at 32-49 on a three-point 1-er by big Lloyd Sharrar. The 6-10 Mountaineer pivot, held ineffective and scoreless by St. John's Lou Roethel in the first half, finished with 15 points.

West Virginia hit 36 of 79 shots from the field, with West sinking nine of 15 and Gardner eight of 14. St. John's hit on only 29 of 73, but had the crowd of 10,142, largest of the season, roaring most of the way.

Never Beat Tribe

CLEVELAND — (P) — Don Larsen, who hurled the perfect game for the New York Yankees in the 1956 World Series, has yet to beat the Cleveland Indians. In five seasons he has lost to them six times. On the other side of the ledger, Kansas City has yet to beat Larsen. In three seasons he holds seven decisions over the Athletics.

Richards Is Named Defensive Coach By Green Bay Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis., Feb. 6.—(INS) — Ray Richards, former head coach of the Chicago Cardinals, was signed today as a defensive coach by the Green Bay Packers.

Richards, a former University of Nebraska and National Football League line star, resigned as coach of the Cards, following the 1957 season. He had held the job for three years.

Ray (Scooter) McLean, head coach of the Packers, said: "Richards is a sound football man. He knows the systems and the personnel in the league and what to expect of opponents."

Richards, who has coached the Cardinals for three seasons, has won seven games and lost three.

Allegany Visits Valley For Important WMI Contest

Beall Meets Fort Hill In Class A Test

Piedmont Shoots For 13th In Row; Hawks At Keyser

Only two teams in the 37-year history of the W.M.I. Basketball League have lost more than two games in a season and won the championship.

They were Allegany, 9-3, in 1922 and Central of Lonaconing, 9-3, in 1943.

Valley High School has this in mind when it hosts Allegany High School's Campers in tonight's feature attraction on the home floor of the Black Knights.

Coach John C. Meyers' aggregation won eight and lost two last season and shared the title with Allegany. In the current race the Knights occupy the runner-up spot at 5-2, one full game off the pace which is being set by Allegany and Fort Hill at 6-1. Each school has three more league games on its schedule.

A defeat for Valley tonight would just about finish the Knights as a title contender and to stay in the running they must avenge a 58-47 defeat of earlier in the season at Campobello.

Fort Hill At Beall

Fort Hill, which has been out of the championship picture since 1951, will be striving to hold first place when it does battle with the Mountaineers on the Beall High School court tonight.

Beall has won three and lost four and must show a complete reversal of form to gain revenge for a 78-32 beating it suffered on the Greenway Avenue court in the first game of the series. Coach Eddie Finzel's capers own a 3-4 record in league play.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's floormen also will be shooting for their third straight win in the Allegany Class A title race. Allegany trails with 2-1 and Beall is 0-3 in the triangular setup.

In the three-school Class B race, Valley is the leader with 3-0 followed by Bruce at 1-1 and Mt. Savage at 0-3. A victory for Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bulldogs at Mt. Savage tonight will keep Bruce in the running and would make the Valley at Bruce contest February 14 a championship affair. The Westernport quint holds a 79-46 decision over Mt. Savage which is 0-7 in the league to date.

Lions Seek 13th In Row

Piedmont High School, fresh from an 81-61 victory over Keyser on Wednesday night, will be trying to extend its two winning streaks when it faces the Vikings at Petersburg tonight. "Huck" Miers' Lions are now 10-0 in the Potomac Valley Conference and go to Grant county with a 12-game winning streak. The Mineral countians whipped Petersburg by the score of 70-50 earlier in the campaign.

Keyser High's Golden Tornado is hopeful of turning the tables on Ridgeley High for a 58-54 defeat when the teams wind up their series tonight in Keyser.

In other P.V.C. tests, Capon Bridge is at Paw Paw, Mathias at Circleville, Elk Garden at Fort Ashby, Moorefield at Romney and Wardsville at the West Virginia School for the Deaf.

Hubs Host Frederick

An important Cumberland Valley Athletic League game is on tap for tonight in Hagerstown where Mel Henry's North Hagerstown Hubs play Homer Brooks' Frederick Cadets. Frederick leads the league with five wins and three losses. Fort Hill and Martinsburg are next at 4-3 while Allegany and the Hubs are tied at 3-3. A victory for North High would tie three schools for second place and reduce Frederick's lead to a half game. The Cadets won the series opener by the score of 50-31.

Northern's Huskies are slated to host Confluence, Pa., Musselman's Applenien visit Berkeley Springs, Franklin is at Harman and Westminster's Owls tackle the Rebels at South Hagerstown in other Friday night contests.

College Teams On Road

The tri-state area's college teams will hit the road tonight with Frostburg State's Bobcats facing Altoona Center at Altoona, Pa., while Potomac State College's Catamounts open a two-day road trip at Wheeling College. Coach "Horse" Lough's quint is billed to play another West Virginia Conference game on Saturday night at West Liberty College.

Eastern Parkway To Resume Bouts

BROOKLYN, Feb. 6 (AP) — The Eastern Parkway Boxing Club will reopen Saturday, Feb. 15 after three years to start a series of non-television shows in cooperation with Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission. Helfand recently promised to help the small clubs.

The opening program by promoter Emil Lence will include two six-rounders and five four-rounders. Lence plans to run twice a month on Saturday nights.

George Flynn Will Head Hot Stove League

Bedford Road Team Replaces Exchange

George A. Flynn, agent for the Monumental Life Insurance Company, who has managed Junior Association of Commerce teams for the past two years, was elected president of the Hot Stove Baseball Club at its annual meeting last night at City Hall.

Flynn succeeds Earl M. Nonnenmann, who was elected vice president of the league for the 1958 season. H. Frank Hinze, right, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Gene Mason, director of the City Recreation Department, which supervises the league, announced that the circuit had adopted the official rules of the P-G-N-Y League year and all teams must abide by these rules.

Eight teams will make up the league as last year but there will be one change in the make-up with the Bedford Road Optimist Club replacing the Cumberland Exchange Club. The new team was represented by John Wentling. The holdover teams are the B.P.O. Elks, B'nai B'rith, Jaycees, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Optimist Club and Lions Club.

Under the new rules of the league the president is empowered to appoint an executive committee to serve as the circuit's governing body.

Managers of teams are requested to turn in all equipment as soon as possible.

Washington Signs Detroit Sandlotter

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 (AP) — The Washington Senators today announced signing a Detroit sandlotter tabbed by farm director Sherry Robertson as "the finest young infielder I have ever seen."

Navarro Ramon Davis, 21-year-old third baseman, received a cash premium for joining the club but less than $4,000, the old standard for classifying bonus players.

Robertson signed Davis at Cocoa, Fla. baseball school run by Senators' scout Jack Rossiter. The 195-pound right-hander, who also plays shortstop and first base, batted .393 in a Detroit sandlot league last season.

Davis has been tentatively assigned to Fox Cities, Wis. in the Class B Three Eye League but may be taken to the Senators' spring training camp at Orlando, Fla. this month.

Williams Signs 18th Contract With Bosox

Salary Estimates Range To $135,000

By JOE KELLEY

BOSTON, Feb. 6 (AP) — Ted Williams today signed what undoubtedly is baseball's best playing contract, his 18th agreement with the Boston Red Sox.

Estimates of his 1958 salary range to $135,000.

Then Williams, amiable and appearing several years younger than the 40 mark he'll reach in August, chatted with newsmen more than an hour.

Williams had spent that much time in conference with Joe Cronin, Sox general manager, before his signing was announced.

Hit .358 Last Year

Said Cronin:

"It gives me pleasure to announce Ted has signed with a raise which is deserved. . . . It's easier to deal with a .358 hitter (Ted) than one who is .300."

Then just to set the writers straight, he quipped: "I'm looking forward to a pleasant summer. I'll be as fair as I can with you guys. If I don't hit, get on me. But just because I might hit .280 in May don't say I should be benched. The first guy who writes some detrimental thing, something unfair, that hurts the team, don't come around me — and that's no — — —."

Williams, graciously answering questions of newsmen with whom he often has clashed, delivered these opinions:

"I don't feel any different than

SPORT SLANTS

Leetown Gets Tony

Those Alumni Games

Should They Count?

Seven Missed By One

By C. V. BURNS

TRAPSHOOTING news has been conspicuous by its absence from the sports page the past year and the chief reason for this is because Tony Francis, of Westernport, who has kept the sport alive in this section for the past 13 years, has resigned as chairman of the trapshooting committee of the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club.

In fact, Tony has transferred his talents to nearby Washington County, Md., and Jefferson County, W. Va., for 1958.

Tony is now chairman of the trapshooting committee of the Jefferson County Chapter of the Izaak Walton League at Leetown, W. Va., and to prove that he still has "plenty on the ball" he has landed the West Virginia State Championship Shoot for that club either the last week in July or the first week in August.

Four electric traps are being installed in preparation for that big event.

Francis also is the new chairman of the Conococheague Gun Club at Sharpsburg, Md.

Winchester, scene of the Virginia State Shoot, and Leetown, where the West Virginia shoot will be staged this year, are only 18 miles apart.

Tony first became interested in trapshooting back in 1927 as a member of the Keymont Gun Club of the Tri-Towns which held membership in the Maryland-West Virginia League, Cumberland headed by the late James C. "Big Jim" Powell, had a team in that circuit. So did Meadow Lark Gun Club of Keyser, Barton and the South Branch Valley Gun Club.

Thirteen years ago Francis became associated with the Ridgeley Rod and Gun Club and the sport was revived in this area following the building of a club house and the installation of modern traps on Route 28 in nearby West Virginia. Eight state tournaments have been staged there.

In 1955 the state event attracted a turnout of 112 gunners, a record for West Virginia and also the tri-state area.

Several years back this newspaper conducted an all-star poll but we threw in the sponge after discovering how biased and ridiculous some fans could be.

For instance, there were quite a few ballots that contained as many as seven Pittsburgh players. The Pirates have been in the baseball rut for years and were lucky to get one player on an all-star squad.

LASALLE High School's basketball team has reeled off 16 wins in a row this season and some Explorer followers believe this team can win 'em all—a feat never before achieved by a local high school team.

Others are keeping their fingers crossed because seven Cumberland schoolboy teams of the past have missed perfect seasons by a single game.

Walter Bowers had two at Allegany High—27-1 in 1933 and 24-1 in 1954.

"Bobby" Cavanaugh almost made it twice at Fort Hill. In 1931 his team won 31 out of 32 games and his 1949 team's record was 25-1.

Pat Conway's 1942 LaSalle quint fell short, 21-1 while Art Slocum's Explorers were 23-1 in 1943 and 25-1 in 1945.

The longer a winning streak runs the greater the pressure on the players and the toughest hurdles usually come late in the season and in tournament play.

Our records have included Alumni games for many years because there never has been any objection from coaches and because there is a regulation providing that each public school may play 21 games a season, including an Alumni contest. Admissions are charged to these games like others.

The Keyser mentor stresses an important point and it's this: Suppose an Alumni quint hands a high school team its only loss of the season? Would it be fair to count such a game if it mars a perfect record?

THE CHANGE in the voting system for the major league all-star game should be an improvement this year because managers and players are in a better position to choose the "cream of the crop" in both leagues. A vast majority of the fans never go near the ball parks to see the real thing and they failed to use common sense in selecting players.

Heretofore, the voting has been a popularity contest and the Cincinnati incident last year was the joke that brought about the change.

For instance, there were quite a few ballots that contained as many as seven Pittsburgh players. The Pirates have been in the baseball rut for years and were lucky to get one player on an all-star squad.

Costly Complaint

Rome, Feb. 6 (AP)—Pork butcher Aldo Venco got suspicious when a stranger showed up and complained, "Your salami and bacon were no good—they were spoiled." The only Venco meat that could have spoiled was stolen a few days ago. The complainant, Santo Furlato, and his friend Gaetano Bianchi were arrested on burglary charges.

More equipment than the beauty you were born with is necessary for a start as a model.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Teen-Age-Take-Off To A Modelling Career

The natural beauty of the very young often inspires the idea that a modelling career is just around the corner. Sometimes it is, but few of the young hopefuls who come to us have a notion of what they must offer besides a slender, well-proportioned figure and a lovely face. They'd give anything for the chance to model, they say, but what we must tell them isn't only what they must have to give, but what they must give up.

Ravenous appetites in the teens may not bring on overweight. But what it does bring on is poor weight distribution which threatens worse to come—the bit of extra fat over the abdomen, legs too cushiony soft above the knees and so pronounced curves at hip tops or at the upper thigh line. Even so, eating heartily at their age isn't as much at fault as eating the wrong things at the wrong time. Miss Prespective Model must give up weird concoctions to satisfy her sweet tooth and snacking too often between meals.

She must learn to eat correctly to help get rid of the last of her baby fat and to promise that hers is a figure which will surely grow lovelier. Then she must give up being chauffeured everywhere and strike out on her own two feet whenever she can. The shape of her legs and ankles in the future will depend a lot on what she does with them now. And she must give fifteen minutes to a half hour of every day to limbering up exercises. Many young girls are surprisingly inflexible through the torso. Their natural bustling activity doesn't give them the willowy grace every model must have to be a success in poses for photographs or on the fashion show runway.

Of course there is very much more to even the start of modeling, but if visions of such a career dance in your head, you can and should take these first steps alone.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 6 (INS).—The day Jeff Chandler finishes "The Extra Edge" in Berlin he'll catch a plane back to Hollywood to get ready to play opposite Susan Hayward in "Between the Thunder and the Sun." Susan's been away far too long and we'll all be very glad to see her. None of her Hollywood chums hear from her because she's just too happy living on a Georgia farm with her husband Eaton Chalkley and her two boys.

"Thunder and the Sun," an original by Guy Trosper and Jim Hill (Rita Hayworth's bridegroom), about French emigres who crossed the country in covered wagons bringing grapes from France for planting in the San Joaquin Valley, calls for locations in California, Colorado, Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico. So Jeff and Susan have some traveling ahead.

It's a Russell Rouse-Clarence Green production for United Artists, and goes before the cameras May 15.

Michael Anderson, brilliant young director of "Around the World in 80 Days," who didn't get quite the attention he deserved because of a certain other Mike occupying the spotlight, has moved on the Warner lot. Anderson has been handed the John Lee Mahin script of Pearl Buck's "A Letter From Peking," which Jack Warner has scheduled for a 1958 biggie.

The star being sought is Katharine Hepburn to play the role of a New England woman who falls in love with a Chinese student in college, marries him and returns to his native land to live. Right now, Katharine is touring in Shakespearean repertoire throughout the East.

Although the voting from Europe is still in the early stages of the Hollywood Foreign Press Association's poll for the world's most popular American actor and actress and the best Hollywood picture, I can give you the leaders so far:

Bill Holden is out in front of the men closely pursued by Tony Curtis and Rock Hudson. Among the girls, Doris Day has a shade the best of it but Deborah Kerr and Audrey Hepburn are coming up fast.

The Golden Globe presentations will be made at the 15th annual dinner hosted by the foreign press, which will be held at the Coconut Grove on Feb. 26.

Bright and early, Virginia Gray called to tell me that in her book Ward Bond is a No. 1 good guy. "I've worked with a lot of actors who've said they'd like to work with me again—but the only star who has actually ordered a script written for the two of us, is Ward! Don't get any ideas, either," she laughed. "I'm his wife's best friend."

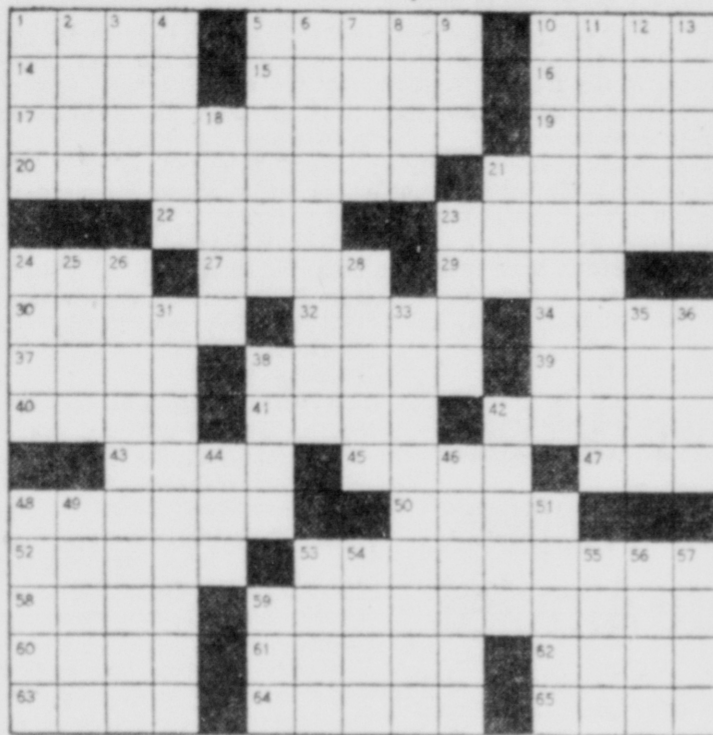

Virginia went on to tell me that when she made one of Ward's TV "Wagon Train" films with him several months ago, they worked together so well, he assured her they would make another. "That went in one ear and out the other until he called and told me we would do 'The Adams Story!'"

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Demos Predict $7 Million Budget Cut

Would Hold Down Tax Increases

By MARTY SUTPHIN

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 6.—Democratic leaders indicated today they hope to trim at least 7 million dollars from the budget proposals of Republican Gov. McKeldin.

If the hope materializes, Marylanders would have a strong chance of escaping at least part of the hefty sales and income tax increases the governor has proposed to balance the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Chairman Boone (D-Balto County), told his House Ways and Means Committee it might, by using a fine tooth comb on the 386 million dollar spending proposals, "cut it more than we ever have before." The biggest previous cuts totaled about $3,100,000.

In the Senate, Finance Committee Chairman Turnbull (D-Balto County) said he also was optimistic that the budget proposed by McKeldin might carry about 7 million dollars worth of "fat".

Boone's estimate was offered as his committee held its first full-dress meeting of the new 30-day session.

"Luxury Items" Out

"We should try to cut it at least $7,000,000 without hurting any essential service," he said. "All luxury items must come out."

The Legislature finds itself in a position that it must increase some taxes, but we want to increase them as little as possible."

The governor has proposed 50 per cent increases in the sales and income taxes to meet an anticipated deficit of about $38,500,000.

The Ways and Means Committee and its counterpart in the other House — the Senate Finance Committee — will receive a general outline of the proposed budget from James G. Rennie, State budget director, at a joint session tomorrow afternoon.

The two committees will begin calling in various State departments and agencies for detailed budget hearings next Tuesday.

While the legislators were preparing to make cuts, word went around the Statehouse that the State Roads Commission wants to expand its building program.

It was reported that the commission wants to outline to this session a plan that would extend the 12-year program set up in 1953 to 20 years. The spending would involve around a billion dollars, it was heard. Legislative approval would be sought in 1959.

Pay Raise For Legislators
Maryland voters will be asked this fall to consider a pay raise for legislators if a bill on its way through the General Assembly carries to passage.

The measure, which was given a favorable report by the House Ways and Means Committee, adopted by the House, calls for a constitutional amendment to boost lawmakers' annual salaries from $1,800 to $3,000.

The pay raise was recommended by a special committee of non-legislators appointed by the Legislative Council. If it becomes law it will go into effect in 1959 and will not apply to present legislators whose terms expire this year.

The delegates did vote themselves more money yesterday. They raised their daily expense allowance from $10 to 20. In a 90-day session, the total would equal their present salary.

Censor Bill Proposed
The House received a bill from 39 delegates to give the Board of Motion Picture Censors the authority to designate films fit for viewing only by persons over 16 years of age.

Theatre owners in the Baltimore area have called the proposal unworkable.

Another effort to control advertising signs along highways reached the House from Del. Boone, Lee (D-Montgomery) and Robinson (D-Balto 4th).

It would prohibit signs within 500 feet of controlled access highways. Past efforts to limit billboards in the state have failed repeatedly.

The House moved toward passage a limitation on legal tapping of telephones. It would take the power away from police and leave it only with State's attorneys or the attorney general.

Dance To Aid Dystrophy Fund

Algonquin Forest No. 140, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, will sponsor a dance Saturday, February 15, at the Ali Ghan Shrine City Club for the benefit of the group's muscular dystrophy fund.

For some years the Tall Cedars of Lebanon has made its national objective the raising of funds to promote research into the causes of muscular dystrophy.

In some cities Tall Cedars have staged parades and have collected muscular dystrophy funds along the line of march.

One of the accomplishments of this fund has been the establishment of a metabolism ward in the New York Hospital. They have given thousands of dollars to Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for muscular dystrophy work. The major objective of this research is to learn more about muscular dystrophy so that children affected with it will live longer than the 17 years allotted to most victims.

City Police Clerk

Mrs. Margaret Sisk, 641 Shriver Avenue, has assumed the duties of police clerk in the traffic department of the Cumberland Police Department. She is a graduate of Ursuline Academy, where she took an academic course. Her husband, James W. Sisk, is a city fireman.

Economic Discussion Class Starts Next Wednesday

The first session of the Economic Discussion Group of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will be held next Wednesday in the conference room of the Kelly Springfield Tire Company.

The discussion leader for the opening session, starting at 7:30 p. m., will be Clifford C. Bruck, assistant to the vice president in charge of traffic of the Western Maryland Railway Company.

House Group To Study Rates Of Blue Cross

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 6.—

The General Assembly was urged today to subpoena records of Blue Cross hospitals to determine if charges made for medical care are "honest."

Hyman Pressman, Baltimore attorney, suggested the Legislature should take this action to see if a proposed 22 per cent increase in Blue Cross rates is justified.

Pressman told the Banking Insurance and Social Security Committee of the House that the Legislature has given the hospitalization insurance group a tax-free status and has the right "to demand that it keep its house in order."

The committee today decided to "look into" the proposed rate increase, the operation of Blue Cross and the State insurance laws governing its operation to see if any legislation is needed in this field.

The committee immediately called for information on the subject from John H. Coppage, deputy insurance commissioner, Maurice Le Vita, State insurance actuary, and Pressman, an ardent opponent of the proposed rate hike.

The committee decided to continue its study and will invite spokesmen for Maryland doctors and Blue Cross to give their views next week.

Blue Cross petitioned the State Insurance Commission last Dec. 27 for a 22 per cent increase affecting 1,000,000 Maryland subscribers. A public hearing will be held on the proposal, but no date for it has been set.

Del. Cannon (D-Wicomico), chairman of the House Insurance Committee, called today's meeting after declaring "I believe the administrative costs of Blue Cross offices in Maryland can be lowered, making the rate boost unnecessary."

Committee members briefly discussed their right to investigate the matter, then unanimously passed a motion by Del. Mandel (D-Balto 5th) that they "look into" the matter.

The two representatives of the State insurance commissioner said up and lodged in the county de they are still investigating the Blue Cross request, but they indicated the commission may have little choice but to grant it.

Children's Dental Health Suggestions Advanced

This week is being observed as the 10th annual National Children's Dental Health Week and the Allegheny-Garrett County Dental Society is cooperating in the national observance.

Dr. Richard E. Bolyard of this city is serving as Dental Health Week chairman for Maryland's two westernmost counties.

The American Dental Association and the Allegheny-Garrett County Dental Society have accumulated much data on the proper care of teeth by children.

"Only if the dental disease rate in children can be slowed down," says Dr. William R. Alstadt, president of the American Dental Association, "can we hope eventually to achieve an adult generation in relatively good dental health. Prevention, beginning in childhood, is the one realistic means for bringing the vast dental disease problem under control."

Dental authorities point out that the first teeth have an im-

J. V. Courtney Found Dead In Parked Car

Insurance Agent Had Heart Attack

A 37-year-old local insurance agent was found dead yesterday slumped on the back seat of his car parked at a service station along Bedford Road.

Authorities said James Vernon Courtney, of 519 Prince George Street, city, died as the result of a heart attack.

Maryland State Police said they received a call about 12:15 p. m. Upon investigation they found the man slumped on the back seat with his coat pulled over him. Authorities surmise the man had been dead from eight to 12 hours.

When an employee of the Dishong Atlantic Service Station reported for work about 7:30 a. m. yesterday he noticed the parked car, but paid little attention to it.

Later in the morning, police said, someone looked in the car and saw the man slumped in the vehicle. Tfc. J. F. Browning investigated, along with Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner.

Mr. Courtney was born in Girard, Ala., and was a son of Mrs. Willie (Green) Courtney, city, and the late Henry V. Courtney.

He was employed as an agent for Prudential Life Insurance Company. He was a member of First Baptist Church and was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving, in addition to his mother, are his widow, Mary (Payne) Courtney; two children, Crystal and Craig, both at home; two brothers, William, LaVale, and Royce Courtney, Baltimore, and two sisters, Mrs. Harold Ritter, city, and Mrs. Jack McNeill, Hagerstown.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home where a service will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. by Rev. Robert C. Nimon, pastor of Grace Methodist Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Honorary pallbearers will be co-workers from the Prudential Insurance Company and members of the 382d Military Censorship Detachment, Army Reserve, of which Mr. Courtney was a member.

Hughes Backs Bill To Keep Armory Funds

House Minority Leader George R. Hughes Jr., yesterday co-sponsored a bill which would extend for two years the time in which the Cumberland National Guard Armory must be built.

The other sponsor of the bill—designed to make sure state funds will be available to match federal allocations—is Del. Roy N. Staten, (D-Ba. County).

Del. Hughes said the federal budget does not include funds for capital improvements such as the local armory.

The General Assembly two years ago passed a bill to make available state funds to match federal money, but the authority for using the matching money would expire this year unless the time limit is extended.

He said the proposed bill does not call for any additional expenditures but only makes already authorized funds available for two more years.

Driver Flees Burning Automobile

Car Damaged, But Motorist Unhurt

A Fairgo motorist escaped being burned yesterday afternoon when the interior of the auto he was operating caught fire along State Street near the Kelly Boulevard.

Firemen from West Side Station said Floyd Davis managed to pull the car over to the curb after a "flash fire" engulfed the interior.

They received a call about 2:20 p. m. and were out for about half an hour, extinguishing the flaming car with water. Heavy damage was done to the car, they said.

A lighted cigaret possibly caused the fire, according to firemen.

In another call yesterday, East Side firemen were called to the vicinity of the Bennett Transfer and Storage Company near Henderson Avenue.

They said a load lifter had caught fire while being operated inside a box car along the siding. The flames were out on arrival. Defective wiring may have been the cause of the fire, they said. The call was received at 12:06 p. m.

Two Oakland Jail Escapees Are Arrested

Earl R. Franklin, 32, of Johnson City, Tenn., and Arnold E. Sisler, 30, of Aurora, W. Va., two of the three prisoners who escaped from Garrett County jail in Oakland Sunday, were arrested yesterday morning in Preston County, W. Va.

The third escapee, Wayne E. Pigott, 43, of the Oakland area, remained at large last night, according to Garrett County Sheriff James Frantz.

Franklin was nabbed with a 15-year-old juvenile while in the act of theft in a Masontown, W. Va., store. Sisler was arrested later in the day at the home of his father, Charles Sisler, near Aurora.

The two escapees and the youth are being detained in the Preston County jail at Kingwood pending possible action by West Virginia authorities prior to being returned to Garrett County.

Prisoner Questioned
In an attempt to learn how the trio escaped from the county jail on Sunday, Sheriff Frantz questioned Sisler yesterday. Sisler had little to say, according to Sheriff Frantz, who said last night that "the bars were already sawed and he (Sisler) went out."

Sheriff Frantz said he expects to question Franklin sometime today. Meanwhile State's Attorney Richard Pagenhardt of Garrett County and Prosecuting Attorney James Daly of Preston County conferred yesterday as to possible action against the two escapees and the youth.

Meanwhile a number of rumors concerning the whereabouts of the third escapee have been checked out, according to Sheriff Frantz, who said he was informed of Franklin's arrest about 2 a. m. yesterday.

The capture, he said, was made by Preston County Sheriff Charles S. Harriman, Deputy Sheriffs Frank D. Roberts and Darius Wiles, and West Virginia State Troopers J. E. Coleman, and W. Z. Sparks of the Kingwood detachment.

The proprietor of the store discovered Franklin and the youth in his store. He resides next door to the business establishment. When authorities arrived from nearby Kingwood, the store was surrounded and Franklin was called to surrender.

Surrender To Police
He and the youth made their way to the roof of the building in an attempt to escape arrest, but surrendered after several warning shots by state troopers. Franklin's identity was established in preliminary questioning by Preston County authorities and Sheriff Frantz was notified of his arrest.

During questioning of the youth, it was learned that Sisler was at his father's home. The West Virginia police group met Sheriff Frantz at Aurora and proceeded to the Sisler home where the escaped prisoner surrendered when told the house was surrounded.

Sisler told Sheriff Frantz that he and Franklin walked 20 miles to Aurora after escaping from jail. In view of the frigid weather conditions in Garrett and Preston counties the sheriff said he doubted the story.

Franklin is charged with safe-cracking, resulting from the burglary of $37,000 from a Friendsville store last July 29. Sisler is accused of forgery and Pigott of breaking and entering.

Local Warehouse Is Broken Into
The Karp Brothers warehouse at 15 Harrison Street was broken into over the night, police reported yesterday.

Officer Philip Gilpin discovered at 5 a. m. that the building had been entered by an intruder who broke a side window.

Employees of the restaurant supply firm were taking an inventory yesterday to see if anything was missing.

Jurors Unable To Agree In Assault Trial

Deadlocked Jury Excused By Judge

The trial of William C. Kneisley, Jr., 22, of Hagerstown, charged with assaulting a 32-year-old Hagerstown woman last August 7 with intent to rape her, ended inconclusively late yesterday afternoon when an Allegheny County Circuit Court jury was unable to reach agreement after three and one half hours of deliberation.

William Marean, foreman of the all-male jury, informed Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris about 4:50 p. m. that the jury was unable to reach agreement, whereupon the judge excused the jurors. As a consequence, another jury will have to be impaneled to hear the case, probably not until the next term of court in April. The deliberation started about 1:15 p. m.

Other members of the jury were Harry Shaw, Raymond C. Yutzy, Lonnie L. Jackson, Ivan C. Wilson, William J. Morgan, William Wilson, Gerald D. Nelson, Irby S. Rutherford, Joseph May, William Allen and Norman C. Weakley.

Deadlocked 11-1
It was reported that the jury was divided 11-1 for conviction.

The defendant yesterday completed his testimony, which had been interrupted shortly after he began Wednesday afternoon when one of the jurors, Mr. Nelson, became ill and Judge Harris recessed the trial until yesterday morning.

Kneisley asserted that he had never seen the prosecution witness and had never laid hands on her. On cross-examination, the defendant admitted that he had been convicted in 1953 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minor girls and had served time in the Maryland House of Correction.

The Hagerstown man also testified that he arrived home about 2 a. m. August 7 and was berated by his father for coming home so late. However, that was an hour before the woman said she was assaulted.

Hagerstown Det. Sgt. Grayson Martin V. B. Bostetter, Hagerstown, and Edward J. Ryan, city, defense attorneys, had contended that Kneisley weighed 235 pounds at the time of the incident and it would have been difficult if not impossible for him to have climbed through the bedroom to reach the woman's window.

The prosecution witness, her eight-year-old daughter and Mrs. Jacqueline Lester, a neighbor, all picked Kneisley out of a police line-up the next morning as the man they had seen in the apartment.

O. T. Taylor Jr., state's attorney of Washington County; Paul M. Fletcher, state's attorney of this county, and Warren Stultz, assistant state's attorney in Washington County, handled the prosecution of the case.

Kneisley was indicted by the Washington County Circuit Court grand jury last November and the case was moved here for trial on a defense motion in December.

HAROLD L. DREW

Carlos Man Is Candidate For Commissioner

Harold L. Drew of Carlos yesterday became the fifth official Republican candidate for county commissioner when he filed with the Allegheny County Board of Election Supervisors subject to the May 20 primary election.

Mr. Drew, who attended Beall High School in Frostburg, formerly was engaged in the trucking business. He is now employed in the heavy equipment department of the George F. Hazelwood Company, working on a road project near Oakland. He is a member of the Methodist Church of Carlos.

Born and reared in Carlos, Mr. Drew is making his first bid for public office. Four other Republicans previously filed for county commissioner of whom three can be nominated May 20. Other official candidates include W. A. Strother, Cumberland; Louis V. Shinnamon, LaVale; Charles N. Hill, Frostburg, and William A. Wilson, Midland. James P. Russell of Mt. Savage is the lone Democrat candidate for county commissioner.

So far only two contests are assured in the Republican primary election. Besides this county commissioner race there are two candidates for the state senate. They are Senator Charles M. See and Delegate George R. Hughes Jr., both of Cumberland, both of whom filed Tuesday.

Reed Sponsors Coal Miners' Pay Bond Bill
A bill to assure coal miners and other coal producing employees payment for their labor by requiring all coal producing companies to post a bond was introduced in the House of Delegates yesterday by Del. Lester B. Reed of Mt. Savage.

Mr. Reed said the bill is a similar measure to those passed or considered in other coal producing states, and is intended to protect the income of persons employed in coal mines.

The bill provides that coal companies provide adequate bond to assure the payment of wages for the next pay period.

Members of the Allegheny County Delegation received a number of committee assignments yesterday.

Del. George R. Hughes, minority floor leader and Mr. Reed are members of the Ways and Means Committee, and Del. Hughes is also a member of the Rules Committee and the Claims Committee.

Del. Noel Speir Cook was named to the Judiciary Committee and the Grand Inquest Committee. Thomas Berry, serving at his first session by appointment, was named to the Alcoholic Beverages Committee, Banking, Insurance and Social Security Committee, and the Committee on Inter-Government Relations.

Exact Effect On Teacher Pay Uncertain

State Directive May Be Needed

The exact effect of the overruling of Governor Theodore R. McKeldin's veto of the $400 teacher pay raise bill upon Allegheny County's public school teachers remains to be seen.

Certain ambiguity in the language of HB 253, which was passed overwhelmingly in both the House of Delegates and the State Senate, must be clarified. One thing is certain. It does not mean that each teacher in Allegheny County will get exactly $400 more than she received this school year.

The State Department of Education released a figure of $539,650 in Annapolis yesterday as an estimate of what Allegheny County will receive under the bill enacted Wednesday. Garrett County is due to get $101,133.

15th Year Tops
In the first place, under the Green Commission formula which has been in effect since the 1954-55 school year, it is not until the 15th year of experience this year that a teacher reaches the maximum level of $5,100 with a bachelor's degree.

During the 1958-59 school year, under the Green Commission formula, the salary schedule was projected so that the $5,100 maximum could be reached in the 13th year of experience. In other words, the teacher with 12 years experience, gets $4,800 under the present formula. Under this present formula, the same teacher next year, in her 13th year, would get $5,100.

The present salary range in Allegheny County is from $3,300 in the first year to $5,100 in the 15th year. Next year, it was planned that the range would be from $3,300 minimum to $5,100 maximum in the 13th year.

A directive from the State Department of Education probably will determine the exact effect of the so-called $400 increase. Whether it changes Allegheny County from a $3,700 minimum in the first year to a $5,500 maximum in the 13th year remains to be seen.

One of the uncertainties is the fact that the salary schedule set forth in HB 253 takes 15 years to reach maximum because it originally was made to become effective during the 1957-58 school year. Now that it has been delayed a year by Governor McKeldin's veto, it will not become effective until the year when the maximum in Maryland is supposed to be reached in the 13th year.

$500 Above Minimum
The present state minimums are $2,800 to $4,600 and Allegheny County is $500 above these levels.

Under the Green Commission formula, it originally took 18 years to reach maximum in 1954-55. Then it went to 19 years in 1955-56, then to 17 years in 1956-57, now 15 years in 1957-58, 13 years in 1958-59, and finally 11 years to reach maximum in 1959-60.

Following is the schedule for the current school year:
First year—$3,300; second year—$3,400; third year—$3,500; fourth year—$3,700; fifth year—$3,900; sixth year—$4,100; seventh year—$4,300; eighth year—$4,400; ninth year—$4,500; tenth year—$4,600; 11th year—$4,700; 12th year—$4,800; 13th year—$4,900; 14th year—$5,000; 15th year—$5,100.

Following is the schedule which was planned for next year before Governor McKeldin's veto was overridden:
First year—$3,300; second year—$3,400; third year—$3,500; fourth year—$3,700; fifth year—$3,900; sixth year—$4,100; seventh year—$4,300; eighth year—$4,500; ninth year—$4,700; tenth year—$4,800; 11th year—$4,900; 12th year—$5,000; 13th year—$5,100.
